

Sheriff Debate Sparks Sun Candidate Night

By NORMAN COLBY

The Contra Costa County Sheriff's Office is either an excellently-run and efficient organization, or it is a low-morale, too-expensive outfit with too many "chiefs" and not enough "Indians."

Nearly 200 persons listened to all sides Wednesday night during a lively "Debate of the Issues," sponsored by The Sun.

The Sun candidates' night, aimed at the June 5 primary elections, included talks by candidates for U.S. Congress, county supervisor, sheriff and tax-collector-treasurer.

THE MEETING at Alcalanes High School also included a vigorous pro and con discussion of the proposed $7.5 million county bond issue for parks.

Additional excitement developed when questions from the floor were read by Sun Publisher Herman Silverman.

But the gritting of teeth and the exchange of verbal blows was most noticeable during the debates between incumbent Sheriff Walter Young and his opponents, Harry Brown of Alamo, Young's predecessor; Vernon Conway of Concord and Allen Rhodes of Danville.

Brown claimed incumbent Young had been avoiding candidate meetings, that only pressure from the county grand jury, district attorney's offices and newspapers brought about the elimination of vice conditions, and that the department, with new captains and lieutenants, is "all chiefs and no Indians."

BROWN REFERRED to "low morale" among the lower echelons of the department, riots in the county, a $500,000 increase in the sheriff's office budget, and the "sabotaging" of the juvenile division.

Conway, a Concord city councilman, auto dealer and provost marshal for the 49th National Guard Division, presented figures showing an increase in departmental personnel from 135 to 181, but a lesser increase among active patrolmen.

Conway promised that if elected he would help establish a homicide bureau of cooperating law agencies, enlarge the youth program, establish a life-saving unit for the county waterways, and add modern crime prevention equipment.

Rhodes, a constable and graduate of the F.B.I. Academy, referred to his own past experience in training about 750 sheriff's reserve officers, and emphasized the need for increased attention to juvenile offenders.

SHERIFF YOUNG repeated earlier statements that "There are no issues."

Young said the 1958-59 grand jury had criticized the department when it was under Harry Brown, and added that the 1959-60 grand jury complimented him (Young) on the improvement.

Young noted that critics claim that his department is run by underlings, such as "captains or the undersheriff," adding, "... each man under me has certain responsibilities."

"If he is a captain, he is a captain all the way; if he is an undersheriff, he is an undersheriff all the way," said Young with fervor.

YOUNG NOTED that one of the candidates for sheriff had a complaint to make, and this rival candidate "... didn't call the captain or the undersheriff; he called me ..."

Young listed what he felt are accomplishments of his department, including an increase in the patrol force, establishment of a "suppression squad," a new recording system, a communication system.

He pointed to his "outstanding vice squad," a complete training program, modern equipment, a new crime lab, his plans to enlarge the patrol coverage and the juvenile bureau. During questions, Sheriff Young noted that he has not accepted fees for delivering legal forms, but added he will continue to the end of his first current four-year term using private cars and accepting mileage reimbursement.

THIS IS by arrangement with the board of supervisors, he said.

Harry Brown, in reply to a similar question, said in his last three years as sheriff he returned all fees and reimbursement, amounting to some $69,000.

Speakers in the congressional race were Charles Weidner of Pleasant Hill and Harold Mutnick of Lafayette, both Democratic Party candidates, and Tom Riley, speaking for incumbent Congressman John Baldwin.

Mutnick said the Democratic Party endorsement given to Weidner at the recent convention deprives the party members of the freedom to make up their own minds.

WEIDNER referred to this fact with pride.

Weidner said a Democratic congressman will be better able to work on the "team" in Washington, D.C., and add he backs the Kennedy program all the way.

Mutnick questioned Weidner's support of the Kennedy foreign program and other programs.

The Third District supervisor race, including Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Alamo and Concord (not Lafayette and Orinda), brought two genial speakers.

INCUMBENT Supervisor Thomas Coll of Concord referred to his qualifications as the first attorney to serve on the board, and claimed a role in the elimination of the fee system for the sheriff, the attempted consolidation of lower courts, and in area flood control work.

Taylor referred to flood control work done during his 16 years as supervisor (Coll beat him four years ago).

Both men offered to work at the job "full time" and Taylor added he plans to "get out" of the real estate and insurance business and have "no connections whatsoever," if he is elected.

The "pro" of the county bond issue was presented by Joe Clark, county park and recreation commission chairman.

ROBERT KAHN, Orinda business consultant, spoke against the bonds, citing the possibility of saving $2.5 million by leasing land owned by East Bay Municipal Utility District, instead of purchasing the district's "surplus" lands.

Clark cited the extensive research which went into the planning of the county park program and low tax costs which will result.

The procedural rule calling for questions submitted in writing only was tested twice.

Early in the meeting, a man walked out after being reminded he could not voice his question, but must write it.

LATER, District Attorney John Nejedly insisted that writing his question directed to Robert Kahn would delay the meeting.

The procedural rule was maintained, however.

The candidates for county tax collector-treasurer, Byron Clark of Concord and Emmett Hitchcock of Richmond, both presented their qualifications.

Several other persons were introduced, including John Anderson of Orinda, Republican candidate for assemblyman, 11th District, including Lafayette and Orinda.

About 60 Alcalanes High School students received a lesson in left-wing philosophy Wednesday afternoon from William Mandel, an alleged communist sympathizer.

The appearance of Mandel caused a storm of protest from many local residents, some with children at Alcalanes.

The county district attorney and the sheriff's department were alerted that Mandel was appearing at the high school by some residents, but no legal action was taken and no demonstrations took place.

Mandel, who became a well-known figure in 1960 when the House Un-American Committee was in San Francisco, spoke at a meeting of the high school's Student Forum at the school Wednesday.

The student group consisting of approximately 30 boys and girls had asked Mandel to the meeting.

MANDEL attracted about 60 students, 20 faculty members and another 20 interested adults for his talk. Alcalanes principal Stanley Walgren said about 40 students usually show up when the Student Forum has a speaker.

The crowd filing into Room 208 for the after-school lecture was greeted by a University of California coed handing out a three-page mimeographed article describing some of Mandel's activities in recent years. She told inquirers that she "represented only herself."

The three-page article was entitled "Meet Mr. William 'Marx' Mandel."

The article was completely documented with quotes from Mandel's testimony before the Committee on Un-American Activities where he refused to answer whether he was a communist and if he had been lecturing as a communist.

HIS BELIEFS well-known, Mandel was asked to appear before the student group as part of their extra-curricular projects.

The forum was founded this year, according to Walgren, and two faculty members—Tom Stamper and Armand Mauss—serve as sponsors.

Walgren described the student group as a group interested in political thinking and intellectually curious. "They like to discuss national problems and controversial issues," he said.

Mandel was one of several known Bay Area "left-wingers" contacted by the group and asked to appear as a speaker, Walgren said.

Mandel accepted the invitation to appear.

Some local residents expressed concern, wondering if high school students were ready to listen to a talk by a "known communist supporter" and be able to determine "good from bad."

WALGREN pointed out that he and the faculty sponsors "have faith and confidence" in the students and that Mandel's background was well known. They did not believe the students were going to be "converted" by anything Mandel had to say.

The other side of the "communist" issue will be presented at the next meeting of the forum when a well-known Hungarian freedom fighter, Frank Iszak, turned speaker will appear for a talk.

Mandel's talk was on "Press Practices in the U.S. and Russia." He took a recent copy of a San Francisco daily newspaper and told how coverage would differ in the Soviet press.

The Student Forum invites speakers to its meetings to hear the pros and cons of issues that are "controversial" in our society today.

Two weeks ago, Mrs. Lillian Wilt, an advocate of the extreme conservative line, appeared before the group.

Earlier in the year, the group discussed the two sides of the "modern art" controversy, Walgren said.

Planners Nix 6-1 Pittman Apts.

Orinda Association Leads Fight vs. More Mutliples

The county planning commission, by a 6-1 vote, turned down realtor Marion Pittman's rezoning request at an 8 p.m. meeting at the Hall of Records, Martinez.

Mrs. Pittman sought to rezone one acre which she owns opposite Pine Grove to multiple family. She presented signed approval by five owners who have property in the vicinity of hers.

LEADING THE opposition to the rezoning were Eric Nielsen, president of the Orinda Association; and Jack Cutter, president of the Monte Vista Improvement Association. Two long-time Orinda residents, Silverton and James Hupp, also voiced opposition.

Boone Robinson, planning commissioner who lives in Orinda, made the motion to deny the request. "The spot zoning aspect was undesirable," Robinson said.

Commissioner Robert Elliott of Richmond voted against denial. He was the lone dissenter, as he was on the Soule, Lafayette and Carroll, Moraga rezoning issues up before the planners the same evening.

Chairman Arthur Young stated that he did not believe that the commission should take any action that would contravene the Orinda General Plan without a clear demonstration of demand from substantial segments of the community.

"In the Pittman case, this demand was absent," he said.

"THE COMMISSION'S action is an affirmation of their support for the concept that Orinda should remain a low density residential community," said Richard Bartle, chairman of the Orinda Association Planning Commission.

Last week, Bartle, who has been instrumental in fighting to keep the low density character of Orinda, said that he considered the Pittman request to be "a threat to the basic concepts on which Orinda is developed."

EDMUND BARNETT, Walnut Creek attorney, representing Mrs. Pittman, stated that he had no comment to make on the commission's recommendation. The request will now go before the board of supervisors.

No date has been set for the hearing. The board has the right to overrule the planners' decision.

The signatures of those who backed Mrs. Pittman included Robert Klemmedson, architect who owns a nearby building; Jack Martin, president of the company who owns the 10 acres referred to as the Pine Grove property; Mr. Kerrigan, Charlotte Tietjen and George Gouri, also owners of neighboring property.

Mrs. Pittman also had the backing of the owners of the Masonic Hall.

"THE 52 apartments near Brookwood facing residences will soon be completed," she stated last week. "That land has the same history as mine; it was previously owned by the water company and was rezoned from R-A to multiple."

"If the planners rule against me, I will consider it discriminatory," she said. "What can I do with land zoned agricultural? Maybe I could have a turkey ranch there."

Carroll Rezone Request Denied By Commission

An application by Tom Carroll to rezone the hillside on the Carroll Country Club golf course, adjacent to Moraga Road, was turned down Tuesday night by the Contra Costa Planning Commission.

The planners voted six to one against the proposal. Commissioner Robert Elliott was the lone dissenter, as he was on the Soule and Pittman hearings during the session. It met at 8 p.m. at the Hall of Records, Martinez.

CARROLL CONTENDED that his land was rezoned from multiple to single family dwelling without his knowledge or consent. He leased the property with the assurance from the commission that it was zoned multiple, he said.

"The county is not restrained from rezoning," said a planner. Representing residents of the area were Rex Collings, lawyer and clerk of the school board; Dr. Lee Nelson and Robert Amber, co-chairmen of the Moraga Valley Community Club's civic affairs committee.

WHILE DR. NELSON said that Carroll had the sympathy of the group he represents: "There exists already in the Rheem area six times the retail business and multiple resident zoning as is shown on the general plan."

He said that his committee is "very concerned" about the time lapse between meetings of the planners in regard to the Moraga General Plan. It was originally approved in 1958; and then revised.

The civic affairs committee is meeting with Boone Robinson, planning commissioner; Bestor Robinson, Utah Construction lawyer and members of the planning staff for further study, recommendations, and revision of the general plan.

May Lectures at UCLA Seminar

C. A. May of Orinda, a research chemist at Shell Development Company's Emeryville Research Center, is conducting a special seminar at the University of California at Los Angeles. It began Monday and ends today.

A part of the engineering extension division's short course on petrochemicals, May's subject is adhesives and adhesion. The petrochemical division short course is the first one ever offered at UCLA, according to extension division officials. It is intended for administrators and technical personnel in the petroleum, chemical and processing industries.

Ronald Kay Attends

Ronald Kay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Del T. Kay, 22 Tarry Lane, Orinda, attended the annual May weekend on the Willamette University campus in Salem, Oregon.

OCCU Display Ends Today

The Orinda Council for Civic Unity observed Realty Week with a display of a large pin map in the window of the Wells Fargo Bank, Orinda. Today is the final day.

Each pin on the map locates a home where one or more adults signed the Open Housing Covenant made available to local residents during 'Brotherhood Week' in 1961 by the several sponsoring agencies.

INCLUDED in the display is a copy of the Open Housing Covenant and the page from the April 14, 1961, edition of the Orinda Sun. This published, by permission, the names of 503 signers.

The Open Housing Covenant states "... that I am ready to welcome into my neighborhood neighbors on a personal basis

G&L Rezone Okay--Map Delayed

G & L Investment Corporation's request to rezone 365 acres of land was approved by the Board of Supervisors Tuesday at 2:15 p.m., at the Hall of Records building, Martinez.

The property is located at the northeasterly end of Lombardy Lane and continues east to Happy Valley Road in Orinda.

EARLIER in the month, the County Planning Commission unanimously approved the G & L request to rezone the property from general agricultural to single family residential.

The subdivision map was filed with the planners before the rezoning was official in order to save five to six weeks time. The planners postponed a decision on it Tuesday in order to allow further study of the map. It is now on the agenda for June 6.

There was no objection to the rezoning, which community representatives said calls for large lots and low density zoning, in compliance with the Orinda General Plan.

CIVIC GROUPS of Orinda and Lafayette have expressed concern over the stress the development of the 365 acres would put on roads and sewers.

Supervisor Mel Neilsen has raised some questions as to the subdivision plan. He has the map currently under study.

THE SCHOOL site is another uncertainty. While the area is now in the Martinez school district, it would impose a hardship on residents to send their children so great a distance to school.

Today, Superintendent of the Orinda School District Joseph Sheaff, and members of the Martinez School District expect to meet with the owners of the G & L parcel to get together on a school locale.

Sheaff attended the Tuesday night hearing before the planners.

Sun Tour Near; Four Seats Left

Time is growing short and the spaces are becoming limited for The Sun's Jubilee Holiday Trip to Europe which is scheduled to take off from the San Francisco International Airport on June 14.

Four reservations remained available at press time this week. Interested prospective tourists should contact The Sun offices, 284-4444 or CL 4-4444, immediately to be sure of a chance to join the party.

The European phase of the tour is being taken on DMK airlines and return may be delayed as long as a year. The actual tour takes 26 days and an additional 10-day visit to Spain and Portugal may be included.

ART STUDENTS of Inland Valley will be among those from the seven schools in the Orinda district to participate in an art exhibit Sunday, 1-5 p.m., at Pine Grove School auditorium. Left to right are Harry Delong and George Gray. Story on page 6.

The Pleasure of Your Company

NONI DOTY'S ROSES (she's a prize rose culturist) deliciously scent the room as I sit here typing two days after a most enjoyable afternoon gabbing w/the good ladies of the Miramonte Parents' Club Afternoon Discussion Group. You didn't know we had a MPCADG? Imagine that!

Barbara Bedayn, our Lady Ornithologist who christens her popular column "For The Birds" with the next issue, opened the meet & if I ever need a Press Agent (or YOU ever do) she's IT!

"I Hate Publicity, BUT—" I never saw my name pop up in so many places in such a short span of time & it was she who was working overtime on publicity. I enjoyed every minute. Being only human, you know.

Some of the old Mother's Club members were there. What we mean is, long-last friends from the former Mother's Club . . . Beverly Bonds for one, who was president of the group that preceded our rash of Parents' Club.

ENJOYED meeting Hollander Marie Pearce, seeing Norwegian Gudrun Edmark, winking at petite & pretty Fay Zadeh. Chatted w/Chris Lang & Lenore Norbeck, Portia Dauphinee who is chairman of the group & Mary Green who wondered how we ever found out about her pneumonia & who spurns the bridge table like we do! Leona Wilson & Betty Brooks, Claire Craig & Eleanor Jackson, two duos. Virginia Hawkins with "Andy" Green, Connie Hall . . . Wish I could have met each of you. You were so nice.

SOME DAY for Winnie Gilmore who arrived at 12:30, stayed on to ready for her dance rehearsal in the gym at 4:30, put her pupils through their tip-toes, drove our dgtr. home, showed us how to finish sewing the costume & had but one hour (but not to spare) to get dinner at home, dressed & TO the installation. (Pres.) at the Parents' Club mtg. that night.

THE DANCE RECITAL tonight, a benefit for Miramonte Parents' Club, will be minus a few members who've come down w/Mumps & Chicken Pox. In case you care to check with Dr. Ben Casey, chicken pox is still contagious until the last scab falls off & we've seen too many polkadotted Tots out in public of late. Who needs an epidemic w/Graduation coming up?

Dance rehearsal was all legs & green leotards . . . Jane Calhoun, just back from a salubrious stay in Monterey . . . Helping w/stage directions, Elaine Pardini whose baby is now a tiny ballerina proving Tempus doesn't Fidget. Sally Hoffman strolling in w/her 14-month son Peter in his stroller . . . Jean Alderton joining the tykes for icecream bars.

REGINALD GARDINER & his professional cast who gave such a sterling performance of "The Pleasure Of His Company" at Las Lomas last Thursday rated rave reviews from the audience of 200 & those potential ticket-buyers who backed out because they didn't think "real theater" could come to a High School Auditorium sure missed a bet by missing this one!

THE BIG ART EXHIBIT coming to St. Mary's College June 2-5 (w/a private Preview June 1) is loaded w/fine art works titled "The Artist Looks At Peace." In the group is Orinda artist Blanche Brody's widely-acclaimed "Odeon," a reflective oil portrait of a woman, a picture that tells a thousand words. The outdug. exhibit, in its entirety, will be sent to the Seattle World's Fair (following a 6-wk. stay at St. Mary's) by funds raised by Diablo Valley Women's Peace Council. Catch it! Don't wait till you get to Seattle! See it here!

Blue Ribbon Stuff . . .

PASTORAL PERFECT: The scene of well-gaited horses & graceful riders riding them at last Sunday's Moraga Horsemen's Show in the bucolic setting of the riding ring out Bolenger Canyon way.

Blue Ribbon Stuff: Betsy Ann Kilburn who was just a spectator, resting on her laurels after placing seventh & qualifying for the Barbara Worth Finals the day before at the Sacramento Spring Festival, a sort of State Fair for the Horse Set.

THE PRETTY EQUESTRIENNE with the plaited braids is also Regional Champ in Western & English Saddle class . . . & we hear she's collected at least a hundred blue ribbons!

Marcia Sawyer (one of the Sawyer twins) & Susan Bonds, both Orinda 4-H-ers, tied for the Horsemastership trophy . . . Spectators sat on the hillside above the ring quiet as a crowd at a golfing match . . . Laurie Wierenga was there & we learned of her horse being For Sale just an hour too late. (It was sold 60 minutes before our call.)

Margaret Wiggins riding Cisco, one of her two horses, the other being white "Misty" . . . Jill McCaffrey sitting straight on Coquette . . . Patsy Smith showing her horse. Hay, Hay, Windy day & the Lions be praised for the barbecued beef & beans luncheon they served!

SUNDAY we get Horse by in Orinda when the local 4-H-ers hold their annual in the riding ring at the Joseph Long's.

ON THE BALL: All eyes were, incl. those of tennis buff Architect Lee Darrow & his Pat who were glimpsed in the gallery viewing Celebrity Tennis when stars teamed w/pros over the tennis net . . . in SF's Civic Aud.

Jean Simmons looking Seventeen & lovely but sporting long white slacks because her legs don't . . . Herb Caen taking a good-natured heckling . . . Charlton Heston, Efrain Zimbalist sparring w/the spectators & sweet song star Vera Ellen surprisingly turning up in Vegas-type tennis garb. Iridescent tights & heavy-heavy make-up.

ENOUGH OF THE Cosmopolitan except that Easterners can look forward to a West Coast of the NY Times in September. A daily morning, Monday through Saturday.

WOODSMAN, Garden Club, Beautification Committee, SPARE THOSE TREES—the four that front the Village by the bridge—due to come down by the County Sanitary District who won't try to find another route to bury a pipe installation. Probably Finis, too, for the last of the pussywillows, by favorite harbinger of Spring. Somebody do something! County will assuage by planting pines. Hmmm!

NEW HAIRDO on Femme Fatale's blonde Ricki Seulberg gives her that Sweet Sixteen look right down to the blue velvet bow tucked low over the ear . . . New hairdos on Perry Mann, Brian Traynor & Pete Parrish give them that King of Siam look. They've all gone mad & shaved their heads. Playing it Cool.

The discerning eye of one lady friend detects the bronze plaque bearing Kennedy's name is off, slightly askew, where it's mounted in the Post Office wall. Just a fraction of an inch, but it is! . . . Which makes me further wonder why so many luxury homes have so many switch plates in such awful awry positions. Cock-eyed carpenters?

BACKWARD GLANCES: The Walt Jameson family out in the driveway admiring their new houseguests—gray & golden fluffs of baby geese, a Mother's Day gift to June whose own permanent houseguest expected next month, will grow up w/a real live Mother Goose . . . Grace Hanks checking out items for a new recipe & signing up for Lucky's big coffee urn. To hostess a church dinner party . . . Norm Miller blowing Mickey to one of those fancy hairdryers on sale at same store . . . Realtor Frances Lax ready to Call The Cops or crown the culprits who keep removing the sign from the Loma Vista Drive property For Sale nr. El Dorado. The new two-story contemp in the same neck of the woods is a duplicate (in reverse to the road) of the Clark Wallace's attractive new home down the hill apiece.

TREE LOVERS, Unite! Now we hear rumblings 'round the P.O. that the beautiful grove of trees off Lucky's lot right will be cut down. Ann Pollaczek, wherefore art thou?

Left holding the bag, we mean the Girl Scouts (no pun intended) is the third member of Sleepy Hollow's dedicated trio of leaders, Char Reiser. While Libby Block is stepping around Europe & Betty Hall is languishing in the SouthSeas, Char says she'll just postpone the annual Overnight campout till the others are back. To lend moral & physical support.

GONE WITH THE WIND . . . The Dancing George Cliffords who'll be footloose & fancy free in Europe for awhile.

Del Rey Parents Elect Officers

At its recent meeting the Del Rey Parents' Club elected a new slate of officers for the coming school year.

The president's position in 1962-1963 will be shared by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacDonald. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Patton will handle the vice-presidential duties. Also elected were Paul Heffernan, treasurer; Mrs. Standish Massie, recording secretary, and Mrs. Bill Stokes, corresponding secretary.

The club has just donated to the school a new amplifying system and control equipment, which is now being installed into the new multi-purpose room as it is being built, according to current club president, Sidney H. Smyth Jr.

The club is also considering donations of additional furniture and equipment through proceeds received from the successful Country Fair, held earlier this month.

Again this year, the club is sponsoring a Creativity Awards program. Certificates will be presented to the winning students on Flag Day, June 14, during a special school assembly.

Students will be judged on creative projects, not assigned classroom tasks, which they have independently executed.

On June 1, officers of the Parents' Club will give their annual Pink Tea, honoring the school's staff of teachers and administrators, at the Smyth residence. Officers will be installed.

Math Team Wins First

A mathematics team from Miramonte High School took first place at the American Association of University Women mathematics meet held recently at Diablo Valley College. The Miramonte team competed against math squads from 13 other county high schools.

Members of the winning team from the Orinda high school were Tom Gunn, Jeff Knudsen, Mike Sorem and Ken White. The high school received a trophy to be kept until competition is held next year. If Miramonte wins a second year, the trophy remains in permanent custody of that high school.

Where's the Fire?

The Orinda Fire Department answered the following calls last week:

FRIDAY — 10:26 a.m., Claremont Road, dryer fire.

SATURDAY — 12:49 p.m., Glorietta Blvd., bonfire; 4:55 p.m., McDougall Court, first aid.

MONDAY — 12:27 p.m., Valle-cito Lane, first aid; 5:14 p.m., Owl Hill Road, awning down.

TUESDAY — 7:15 p.m., La Cuesta, snake call.

THURSDAY — 1:50 a.m., Miner Road, water flow.

Miramonteens Delight at Limelighters and Bikel

By ANN LINCOLN AND KITTY MIKA

Ask anyone who went to see The Limelighters Saturday night or rather who was the hit of the whole evening. They're bound to tell you that it was the man behind Mary Baker and Bob Williams (next year's student body president) and his Hey Lotty lyrics concerning Buffalo Bill.

Charlie Brock and Mimi McGah, Mike McGuire and Mimi Loomis, Dick Miller and Wendy Wilcox, and Betsy Blossom were among those who howled through the whole show and even had side aches the next day. Nobody had better mention the show around John Lackey though . . . he had to sell his tickets.

While everyone else was at The Limelighters Allison Stamp-ley, Bob Case, Linda Rise and Mark Rasmussen went to listen to the "great" music of Thomas Bikel, the Jewish folk singer.

Another event taking place on Saturday night at the Masonic Temple was the Deb's Aganovia. Some of the couples enjoying the dance were Pat Kelly, Don Hamm, Pat Finn, Mary Jo Suardi, Randy Jamison, Barry Klopfer, Darlene Ottman, John Vallens, Shari Sage and Sue Nicolayson and her date (in Bermudas leading the Bunny Hop). Diane Lyle's date did some entertaining with a Cinderella satire. Others there were Rich Lyman, Sherry Wilson, Carol Walker, George Burt, Nancy Casey, Bob Burks, Karen Kahl, Mike Gilmore, Roger Howard, Linda Jones, Joan Barnes, Bill Schwarck, Katy Dullem and Bruce Hutchinson.

Rick Merriam had quite an exciting party last weekend. He forgot completely about the loud speaker outside going full blast . . . the sheriff called and gave him the hint though. Some of those attending were Ron Kay, Jo Anne Warner, Karlen Stafford, Robin Alvarez and Roxie Smith.

Sherry Odenthal was so happy last Friday night that she cried. Dwight Thompson, Carolyn Coburn, Steve Williams, Carol Gilmore, Jean-Michele Sire, Marc Jacobs and Phil Grant surprised her on her eighteenth birthday by taking her to see West-side Story in the city and then going to Enriques'.

Barry Pearce, a junior now at Miramonte, seems to have quite a problem . . . namely about ten dates for tomorrow night.

AFS was quite busy this weekend with an interschool swim and barbecue and a fashion show. The Around-the-World fashion show was held at Bev Graham's home Saturday afternoon. Some of the girls modeling Ogden's clothes beautifully were Nicki Kalivas, Terry Scott, Anne Warner, Sue Pollazek, Marilyn Marsh, Cecily Floyd, Ellen Flagg, Ruda Hageman and Mrs. Mann and Mrs. Gunn and daughter.

Elizabeth Davidson, Linda Jones, Perry Mann and Jean-Michele Sire along with foreign exchange students and their American brothers or sisters from high schools in the area attended the AFS swim and barbecue party in Lafayette on Sunday afternoon.

Gary McCosker had a card party Friday night. Some of the boys trying their luck with the aces and one-eyed jacks were Ron Maccario, Keith St. Claire, Doug Dermitt, John Reilly, Greg Peterson, Roger Howard, Chris Combs, Sandy Cutler, George Hawer, Hall Klement, Brad Peters, Mike McQuaid, Johnny Cooper.

Kip Nelson, Doug Rasmussen, Roger McCosker and Cecil Crutchfield spent most of the weekend fishing up at Cloverdale. On Sunday they went horseback riding up at the McCosker ranch with Jay Grilli and Bob Lyman. Kip and Bob didn't seem to play the Lone Ranger scene too well.

Lake Merrit attracted Jean Gleason and Newton Hildebrand and also Nancy Goebel and Steve Rudolph last weekend. Jean and Newton decided to be lazy and rent an electric boat . . . they were pretty cold by the time the operator found out the motor had died on them at 11 p.m.

Hester Harris and Mick Kazaar really take the cake for discovering new things to do. Saturday they took a helicopter to dinner in San Francisco and Wednesday night they celebrated Mick's birthday by watching tightrope walkers at the circus!

Ann Rodee to Sing At Stockton Concert

Ann Rodee, daughter of the phony in the local auditorium. The three-month contract is member of the University of the Miles' first professional work.

He is a psychology major and has been active for two years at the Pacific University Theater, playing one of the top roles—the stage manager—in "Our Town" last year.

Nautical but Nice

WINDY MAY WEATHER means good sailing for the family of John V. (Jack) Gilmore Jr., shown here with a model boat made by Jack's father. Jack hails from a sailing family, was born on Long Island, later sailed Lake Michigan while his Wisconsin wife, Frankie, learned the ropes on the beautiful lakes of her native state. The children, John III, 13; Leslie, 11, and Ann, 8, share their parents' nautical spirit for the sport and warmer weather just means the whole gang goes along.

A life underwriter in the insurance field, Gilmore also specializes in estate planning and business insurance, takes time to coach summer league baseball in which his son plays, and is a member of the swim team committee at Meadow Pool, where the youngsters swim.

PAINTING has been her passion since girlhood for Frankie Gilmore, who is well known in the area for her portraits in oil and pastel. Many an Orinda wall is hung with a child's likeness signed by the gracious, blonde artist whose diversified talents have branched into the abstract.

She had an entry in the Painted Flower Show during the Spring Garden event and two of her paintings will be on view tomorrow when the Walnut Creek Pageant opens in the Armory with an outstanding collection of art works. Frankie is a member of the Artists' Guild of Valley Art Center and the Oakland Art Association.

The family live "out of this world" in a contemporary house on Highland Court, where the long-view is mainly meadows, mountains and sky, certainly inspiration for the lady who paints daily in her home studio.

McCunn Not Resigning After Scathing Report

previous board was grossly remiss in its responsibility to the district and to the community."

The very lengthy report opens with findings and conclusions after exploring the problem.

The various sections of the four-group critique include: Superintendent, subordinate administrator relations, teacher relations, board relations, student relations, community and intra-faculty relations.

In its findings the report recommended the superintendent tender his resignation to the governing board effective with the close of the school year.

Then it advised the board to take the following steps:

1. Appoint a committee to screen applicants for the superintendency, using procedures as outlined in Boardmanship as a guide.

2. Initiate steps immediately to improve relations among the faculty and administration.

3. Form an advisory group to develop ways to improve relations between the schools and the community, and to make every effort to inform the members of the faculty, as well as the public, of the objectives, achievements, problems and needs of the college district.

Direct work with local newspapers to assist their staffs in presenting district news comprehensively and accurately would aid this effort.

4. Study the Dean Lee Report on re-organization as part of a careful analysis of organization in the district.

5. Review the concerns expressed and implied in the accreditation reports of March 1, 1961, and the Dean Lee Report relating to communication, moral, and organization with particular emphasis on the relationship of coordinators and supervisors and the advisability of creating a formally departmentalized structure within each college.

6. Encourage faculty participation in policy development. The professional staff possesses training and experience which could provide a fine resource pool to be effectively and beneficially utilized in preparing policy for board consideration.

7. Encourage the new superintendent and other staff members to take an active role in various public service groups in the community, but to avoid use of school funds, personnel and materials.

8. Consider means of opening avenues to itself from both the district's employees and the public. An operation of this magnitude may call for more than one regular meeting per month.

Without the pressure to act upon an entire month's business in one meeting, the board could learn more about what is "going on" in the district—its curriculum, its activities, its faculty and administrative problems, its plans, its goals.

The board cannot fully assume its basic responsibilities in an atmosphere of pressure and emergency. More time must be allowed for full, frank and public discussions of policy and program issues.

Time must be allowed at board discussions for participation by the public and faculty, as friendly guests of the board.

While the board and its chairman are to be complimented for resisting recent attempts to turn board meetings into platforms for disruptive partisanship, members must never lose sight of the fact that they are the servants, not the masters, of the educational community represented by the Contra Costa Junior College District.

9. Pointedly and repeatedly invite the faculty, the public and the press to attend its meetings. Only the board can take action, but it will benefit the board to have all sides of issues expressed, courteously and briefly, and in strict conformity to district policy regarding procedures in bring matters before the board.

10. Resist all efforts to poll or caucus the board before official meetings.

The board makes its decisions and conducts all its deliberations, save those relating to individual pupil or faculty personnel, in public meeting, and no board member has any official power representing the Contra Costa Junior College District outside of official board meetings unless specially delegated duties by the entire board.

11. Adopt a policy which clearly defines procedures and staff rolls in the personnel employment for both regular and summer session teaching assignments.

In policy and in practice there should be no discrimination based on the race or religion.

12. Review procedures involved in the background investigations of employees and prospective employees.

13. Consider panel's opinion that teachers whose conduct has consistently taken advantage of the faculty's basic inclinations toward free expression to disrupt area and faculty meetings in a highly contemptuous manner should be asked to resign.

They are by temperament and disposition unsuited to be a part of the Diablo Valley faculty. If resignations are not forthcoming, legal counsel should be sought to determine the possibility of dismissing them.

14. Revive plans for the forum for careful study by administration, faculty and the board.

15. Consider a district newsletter to give general circulation to news about new programs, policy, events and issues.

16. Publish a clear statement of what it expects of instructors in dealing with controversial issues.

Coroner's Office Changes Needed, Says McBrien

A major change in the county coroner's office that may be needed within the next five years to keep the office working effectively has been recommended by the county administrator.

J. P. McBrien, in a report to the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, said the revamping of the coroner's office will increase the cost by about $50,000 a year, not including a $250,000 building.

About one-third of the deaths in the county become coroner's cases, McBrien reported, either because the deaths were violent, or because no doctor was present or could easily determine cause of death.

The report noted that the coroner now has deputized morticians throughout the county and the director of the County Hospital. This program will be overloaded, he said, as the population grows.

At present, the morticians act as deputy coroners at no charge other than the $10 fee for picking up the body. Investigations are done by local police agencies.

McBrien said that Contra Costa County is the only one of the ten largest counties in the state which does not have a staff of coroner's investigators. These men would replace police except on homicides or auto accidents.

The county needs a morgue, he said, instead of having autopsies performed at the mortuaries. He said this building should be constructed at the County Hospital.

McBrien urged that planning for both changes should be planned for now.

Professional men and women of Contra Costa Junior College District Thursday added their demands for the discharge of Dr. Drummond McCunn as superintendent to a similar suggestion contained in a report made by a committee representing four state educational groups.

More than 135 signatures were appended to a letter forwarded to William Kretzner, chairman of the junior college board of trustees.

Circulating the letter were Charles Wagner of Orinda, William H. Houff of Walnut Creek and Ben Gordon of Concord.

"FOLLOWING the publication of the commission's report last Thursday, several scientists decided to determine the sentiment of their professional colleagues concerning the problem. The results took the form of this letter," explained Houff.

Houff pointed out that the group found their professional acquaintances in wholehearted agreement with them and 135 persons signed the letter the first three days, including scientists, engineers, lawyers, doctors, educators and ministers.

"This unofficial grass roots project is continuing," Houff pointed out.

THE LETTER, addressed to the board of governors of the junior college district declared: "We have been observing events in our junior colleges in recent months with mounting alarm. As professional people, as parents, and as citizens, we feel we must express to your office our dismay at this situation, and our hopes that you will act with courage and conviction to correct it."

Dr. Thomas R. Flinn, Contra Costa County chairman of the Citizens to Re-elect Governor Brown, said that after the luncheon Brown will visit Martinez and Pittsburg, making a stop at the county courthouse in Martinez and one at Democratic headquarters in Pittsburg.

He is expected to take a "walking tour" in Pittsburg, said Flinn. Governor Brown previously appeared in this county May 11, when he visited Richmond.

DR. FLINN also announced appointment of local chairmen to the Citizens Committee to Re-elect Governor Brown. They are John Robert Forde Jr., chairman for Walnut Creek; James O'Donovan Ring, chairman for Lafayette; Albert D. Fragley, chairman for Orinda, and Mrs. C. W. Funk, chairman for Danville.

Mrs. Nesbitt said that another Walnut Creek resident active in Brown's campaign is Mrs. Douglas Page, who is women's chairman for Central Contra Costa County.

Some 200 invitations have been issued to officials and leaders of the area, she said, but some tickets are available to the public at Democratic headquarters in Concord. Tickets are $3.75.

Hiway Group Gives List Of Priorities

Greatest construction and right-of-way needs in the county are on State Route 4 from Highway 40 to the San Joaquin County line, according to the Contra Costa Highway Advisory Committee.

The committee presented its improvement and development recommendations for the 1963-64 fiscal year to the State Chamber of Commerce's central coast highway committee last week.

The committee proposed the completion of right-of-way buying and the start of construction on Hoffman Freeway from the Golden Gate Fields to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, a total of 7.5 miles; State Route 21 from one mile south of Danville to Alameda County line, 6.5 miles, and State Route 75 from Solano Way to Willow Pass north of Concord, 5.5 miles.

The committee urged the establishment of routes to protect right of way for the Shepherd Canyon Freeway and Ygnacio Valley and Kirker Pass roads from State Route 75 near Walnut Creek to Route 72 near Pittsburg.

A report by state highway representatives said almost $35 million worth of construction is now under way in the county and projects totaling $1,732,400 have been completed during the fiscal year ending July 1.

The State Chamber of Commerce will gather recommendations from the other 57 counties and submit them to the State Highway Commission.

In an 11-page report, the jury said the seven-man board should be retained, but suggested it should be "mandatory that the governor appoint the nominee of the California Taxpayers' Association, the State Supervisorial Association of California, the District Attorneys' Association of California, and the chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee plus three members at large."

The jury further recommended legislation "to equalize the distribution of costs between the state and the county in the categorical aid programs in order to cut down on administrative time and costs."

THE COMMITTEE, recognizing that social welfare programs have "become so costly that they loomed large as a major part of the citizen's tax load," urged citizens to become acquainted with and use the new Contra Costa Citizen's Advisory Committee.

"Allowances have become increasingly liberal, to the point where they create an incentive to get on relief. . . . Every citizen has the right to demand that his tax dollar be spent carefully and usefully and be economically administered," the report said.

Another problem confronting the welfare department, the report said, is the increasing number of young people receiving welfare benefits. One of the main reasons for the increase is early marriages, it said.

Camp Fire Girls from Walnut Creek, Alamo, Danville, Lafayette and Orinda will participate in their annual awards program at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the multipurpose room of Del Valle School.

Hugh Southworth, a member of the Walnut Creek School Board and Toastmasters Club, will be the master of ceremony.

The guest of honor will be Mrs. Gertrude Rands of Oakland. She has been a dedicated Camp Fire member for over 30 years. Mrs. Rands interest in the out-of-doors and Indian folk lore has been an outstanding contribution to the many Camp Fire Girls she has assisted in the Bay Area as well as her own group in Orinda.

Southworth and Mrs. Rands will present the awards for the program.

Blue Birds, Came Fire Girls, Horizon Girls, leaders, guardians and their families will attend the annual Grand Council Fire to observe and take part in recognition of rank and awards earned during the past year.

Transit Plan Revised For Three Counties

TYPICAL of the scene in our communities when rapid transit becomes a reality is this view of Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek, near North California Avenue. Shown is the proposed station and adjacent parking lot. Bay Area Rapid Transit photo.

To Ease Relief...

A recommendation that legislation be enacted to change the composition of the State Welfare Board to one which would be "more responsive to the wishes of the people" was made by the county grand jury in its report made public this week.

THE COMMITTEE recommended that a complete study of a marital counseling program be undertaken "at the earliest possible date," using federal funds which are available for this purpose.

The report, commenting on the problem of welfare chiselers, states that probers have "a full time job in just investigating absent fathers and cases of fraud."

"In acting as a collection agency, they are unable to keep in close contact with 1200 slow paying fathers. We recommend that one specific person should be charged with the responsibility of handling these collections. Closer follow-up would mean that fewer fathers would become unlocatable."

THEY RECOMMENDED tightening of procedures in the medical program to avoid the opportunity of fraud. Specific steps urged are:

1—As all forms are numbered, doctors should be directed to return all voided or otherwise misused forms to the central office for destruction.

2—All numbered sheets should be accounted for.

3—A spot check or audit to check recipients against the forms should be instituted and carried out by the investigative department.

4—MEDICAL FORMS should be signed on all and at each and every visit of the patient.

5—The department and medical consultants should consider instituting some type of medical audit.

High praise was given to County Social Service Director William G. Golden and his staff. The committee observed:

"In view of all the restrictions that govern the social welfare department of the county, we feel that local administration of these programs is excellent. The general aim is directed toward the rehabilitation of the recipient—the developing of his independence."

Members of the grand jury who made the report were: Janice E. Bonper, chairman, and Elizabeth Noack, Frances Enea, Clay Serrahn and George Culp.

Early marriages play a large part, as both youthful partners are ill-equipped and unready to form a marriage partnership or to support themselves. This leads in turn to divorce, separation and desertion as problems arise within the marriage."

Thieves Break Into New Construction Shed

Two attempts were made to burglarize the construction of a new shed at the site of the Montgomery Ward store in Pleasant Hill early this week but the total haul consisted of from $5 to $10 worth of postage stamps and a box of carpenter's tools, according to sheriff's reports.

Officers said thieves broke into the office of the storeroom sometime between Saturday and Monday and stole the stamps plus three checks.

Again on Monday night or early Tuesday morning, burglars pried open tool shed doors and removed the tool box.

In other disturbances, thieves broke into the garage at the home of James Aitken, 70 Brookwood Road, Orinda, and loosened coils off the motor of his car, apparently in an attempt to remove the manifold and carburetor, officials said.

A transistor radio and a gift for the school's secretary were stolen from the office at the Moraga School in Moraga sometime last weekend. Five dollars in petty cash was also taken, deputies said.

In Pleasant Hill, the home of Earl Ahrens, 2031 Hoover Ave., was burglarized and $30 in dimes was taken from a kitchen jar last week.

A gum-ball machine and a case and a half of soft drinks were stolen from a laundromat at 1745 Contra Costa Highway, Pleasant Hill sometime Saturday night, deputies said.

DVC Student Musical Opens Run This Evening

"Ticket to the World," a chamber musical with book and lyrics by Ralph Pomeroy and music by James Campononico, will be performed at Diablo Valley College's Viking Theater tonight, tomorrow night and Monday. Curtain time for each performance will be at 8:30 p.m.

The three-act play, set in San Francisco, is the only student directed, produced and staged production performed on the college campus annually.

Plans for the Bay Area's proposed 75-mile, three-county rail rapid transit system were submitted yesterday to the board of directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

After official adoption, they will be referred to the supervisors of San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties for approval, the necessary prerequisite before a $792-million bond issue can be placed before the voters on November 6.

The original five-county system became three counties when San Mateo County withdrew, and Marin County was later persuaded to withdraw, when it developed that the Golden Gate Bridge could not be used for transit trains.

The plans call for construction of an ultra-modern network of aerial, subway and surface lines over which fast electric trains would serve more than 30 cities and communities.

Details of the system were contained in a 90-page report prepared by the district's engineering, financial and economic consultants.

The report represents a revision of earlier plans that provided for transit service to Marin and San Mateo counties, both of which have since been withdrawn from the initial construction program.

Included in the report are separate sections devoted to the engineering plan, financial plan, tax analyst and economic appraisal.

The rapid transit system would be constructed in 8 1/2 years, according to the schedule drawn up by the joint engineering consultants, but much of the system would be in operation in five years.

Bulk of the capital cost would be provided from the $792-million bond issue, with repayment to be derived from property taxes levied uniformly throughout the three-county district.

Additional amounts for construction of the trans-Bay transit tube ($133 million) and for the purchase of rolling stock ($71 million) would be provided respectively from surplus Bay Bridge tolls and from future transit revenues.

The financial consultants calculated the project will require a peak tax rate of 67 cents per $100 of assessed property valuation, but said this would not be reached until 1972 when construction of the entire system is completed. Lower tax rates are anticipated prior to and after 1972, with gradual reductions following in later years as the general obligation bonds are retired.

Accordingly, the typical Bay Area homeowner (average assessed valuation: $4,000) would pay an initial tax bill of $5.60 at the start of construction in fiscal 1963-64; a peak bill of $27 in 1971-72, and declining annual assessments thereafter.

The district's economic consultant, in comparing the value of rapid transit to the alternative of building additional automobile facilities, said the system would produce more than $50 million in "measurable benefits" annually by 1975.

Stanbery described the three-county network as the logical foundation for an even larger rapid transit system serving the entire Bay Area. Its planning, he said, provides for future route extensions into other cities and counties.

Go to Church Sunday

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Divine healing is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" to be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

Matthew's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's servant who was "sick of the palsy" will be included in the Scriptural readings.

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states:

"Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation" (p. 210).

Christian Science Churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda; 2 Eckley Lane, Walnut Creek, and at the corner of Grant and Park Streets, Concord.

PRESBYTERIAN

The Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette, will hold Sunday worship services at 10 a.m. and 11:15 a.m.

Rev. William Carl Thomas will deliver the sermon "The Prerequisites for a Revolutionary Church."

The adult study classes will meet at 9 a.m. under the leadership of Dr. Albert Rasmussen and Leonard Weeks.

The primary choir and church school classes for kindergarten, junior (fourth to sixth grades), junior high and senior high students will meet at 9 a.m. Church school classes for kindergarten through third grade will meet at 10 a.m. Classes for all ages will meet at 11:15 a.m. Nursery care will be provided at all times.

COMMUNITY

Rev. Stuart LeRoy Anderson, president of the Pacific School of Religion, will preach the sermon at the Orinda Community Church at 9:30 and 11 o'clock. His sermon topic will be "Things Worth Remembering." The sanctuary choir will sing "Omnipotence" by Schubert.

Church school classes will be held during each service for 3-year-olds through the eighth grade. A class for ninth and tenth graders will be held at 9:30 only. Nursery care is available.

LUTHERAN

"Lest We Forget" is the sermon subject of the Rev. Merle O. Tollefson at the 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. Sunday services of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Lafayette. Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:45 a.m.

Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. the members of the choir will have a dinner at the home of the choir director, Dr. J. Philip Dalby and family, 9 Adler Avenue, Walnut Creek. Thursday at 10 a.m. the Women's Bible Study Group will meet in room 24 at the church. Saturday at 10 a.m. junior and senior confirmation classes meet, followed by youth choir rehearsal at 11:30 a.m.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD

"The Worship Hour" will be the sermon subject of Rev. Glen Lambert, pastor of the Lafayette Assembly of God, located at the corner of Springbrook Road and Hillcroft Way, at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

At the 7 p.m. evangelistic rally Pastor Lambert will preach on the theme, "Dangerous Sleeping."

Youth service is at 6 p.m. with Bible study Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning with

EPISCOPAL

The services Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will consist of holy communion at 7:30 a.m., morning prayer, 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. The sermon will be delivered by the rector.

At the 9 a.m. service there will be the presentation of awards to members of the junior choir. At 11 a.m. the newly elected officers of the senior choir will be installed. After the 11 a.m. service there will be a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gompertz in the parish hall. Gompertz has served St. Stephen's faithfully for three years in the church school.

At 6:30 p.m. the congregation will hold the loyalty dinner at the Claremont Hotel to start a building fund campaign.

Wednesday morning at 10 there will be a service of holy communion followed by a service of Christian healing.

Friday at 12:15 p.m. there will be a luncheon and bridge at Mike Lynn's Restaurant, Orinda, given by the Episcopal Church Women of St. Stephen's.

PRESBYTERIAN

Dr. Ronald T. White, pastor of the Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church, has appropriately chosen as his sermon topic for Memorial Sunday, "The Day of Memory." Worship service is held at the Old Moraga School at 11 a.m. Church school is held at the same hour. There is also a nursery.

A service of dedication for the Clyde Spinks Memorial Flags given by the session of the church will be held during the service of worship.

The Oakes parish meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cam Lyon, 5 North Lane, Orinda, Monday evening at 8.

METHODIST

Church worship services are held at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. at the Lafayette Methodist Church, 955 Moraga Road, Lafayette.

The sermon topic of Rev. George E. Berry this Sunday will be "Living Memorials."

Nursery care for children is provided during both services.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

Horses! Horses! Horses!

THE YOUNG PEOPLE sat straight in their saddles. The color splashes of pastel and of bright cowboy shirts were heightened by a generous sun. The arena atop Bollinger Canyon Road provided a nugget of an Old West setting for the Moraga Horsemen's Association's Seventh annual horse show Sunday.

High atop the hill, the home of Captain and Mrs. Harold Parker (who open their land to the Horsemen) stands like a fortress. It oversees the narrow, twisting road through the fortress. It oversees the narrow, twisting road through the magic—the area has not yet been "developed."

Split rails burrowed into the bank served as bleachers . . . not splinterless. Spurts of wind carried the dust in pint-sized hurricanes. It also carried the aroma of barbecued beef.

Medals and stirrups and smiles flashed under a wonderfully warm Moraga sun. And horses, horses—everywhere were horses!

One incongruous touch—the gray French Poodle Michelle, with a pink ribbon in her coil and a collar of jeweled pink leather. She was led by cowhand Jack Cowherd, whose sister Cheryl placed fourth in the "Future Horsemen" for seven-year-olds and under.

Little Scott Carr came in sixth in this event. Scott (wonder if they call him Side) was one of Sam and Mardel Carr's progeny to enter. Teresa, Jackie and Diana also did the family proud.

At the chow corral: the Moraga Lions pitching in with their prize trio of chefs—a real come-on for the June 10 luau . . . Entrepreneur fireman Bill Ortland chatting with entrepreneur grocer Mickey Kazar . . . Postmaster Elinor Dickinson dressed for comfort in a straw hat and couleottes . . . John Sanders—dude for a day—beaming over the equestrian skill of the Sanders tribe . . . The littlest Dale Evans, Sari Trunk, who looked like a doll but handled her horse like a champion. She was: first place in "Future Horsemen."

Mother and daughter knockouts in orange: Dorothy and Sharen Mekonis. Dorothy in orange capris made the award in the palomino class. Sherry in orange shirt, won the Harry C. Morison Perpetual Trophy.

In the refreshment stand: Hilda Franklin, mother of Jr. Horsemen v.p. Don Franklin, opening cokes, tells us she sends The Sun to Tokyo. The Franklins live over yonder Orinda Way now, so it was good to say "howdy popdner" to them. Other riders from thataway: the Kilburns four—Channing, Betsy, Betsy Ann and Mary Lou.

Sisters-in-law Adel Gesinger and Clare Fleuti also helping serve the refreshments . . . ditto Jo Baits . . . Dave Fleuti and Johnny Baits helping to eat same.

And a special "Yippi-Yi-O-Merci-Beaucoup" to the committee chairmen: Irv Kolhorst, general chairman; Bill and Edna Lance, secretary; John Sanders, arena; Tony Boeger, parking; Marcia Blumer, publicity; Sam and Mardel Carr, benefit; Bill McElhinney, refreshments; Harold Parker, finance; Florence Huff, trophies; John Huff, grounds; Bill Morison, photos; Pete Marron, announcer and Caroline Hazarabedian, hostess.

THE BEACHCOMBER'S BALL Saturday night at Carroll Country Club was a real ball for Moraga Community Clubbers and their guests. Chairman Yvonne Mauley deserves much of the credit for the smoothly-run, fun affair.

Duane Anderson, electronics expert, rigged up the hi-fi so you couldn't tell the fi from the hi. Mary Lou and Charles Holt did some fancy jitterbugging. Safeway manager Burnet Bushman and wife Stella excelled at the polka.

For the men, bright Hawaiian print shirts and bermuda shorts were the correct attire. President Charlie Wright was a non-conformist in red and white striped pajama tops.

Mamas wore muumuus. Gertrude Hirni in a bright red muumuu with a butterfly bow and a flower in her hair was a knockout as she danced with husband George.

Also on hand: Mrs. G.O.P. Vi Warner and By . . . Vi's sister "Punky" or Wyla Johnson, as her husband prefers to call her . . . Shirley and Frank Walker . . . Mary Ann and Bob Hower . . . Joseph La Porte, physicist and eligible bachelor . . . Dr. and Mrs. Gus Rademachers, new Draeger Drivers . . . Dr. Lee and Lois Nelson . . . Min and Ken McEwing . . . Rex and Marcel Collings . . . Marge and Bob DeJohn . . . Bobbie and Jim Stevenson, who won a door prize . . . the Elandrums, the Kostyreas . . . were among those combing the beaches.

Lion Jack Taylor and Daphne beating the drums for the Luau . . . Jack trying to sign up Marie Wright to play Hilo Hatti . . . and she just might accept!

ORCHARD DELL DO'INS. A "Get Acquainted" coffee party was hosted by Rose Reed (Mrs. Milton) last week for her new Orchard Dell neighbor, Grace Spencer. Among the Thune Drive girls to attend the Thursday 10:30 klatche were Elvie Haskell; Nell Prescott and her mother-in-law, visiting from Toranto; Georgia MacKenzie; Dorothy Matthews; Isabelle Wheeler; and Colleen Hall.

Moraga Ranch Swim Club had a work party Saturday to do the landscaping. Among the diggers and planters were Bob DeJohn, Bud Emory, Tom Cottingham and Vince Young.

Tuesday next, Yosemite Guild of John Muir Hospital will have nine tables of bridge at Mrs. Harold C. Bates' home on Thune Drive. Co-hostess with Mrs. Bates will be Mrs. James Terrell and Mrs. Bert Hall.

And a Giants Fan Club from the Dell has started. Every Thursday afternoon—Ladies' Day—Betty Terrell, Lois Woodmansee and Jean Bates root root root for the hometown at Candlestick Park.

THE JUNIOR DEPARTMENT. Graduates-to-be of Camino Pablo will be guests of John Bates tomorrow night. Boys planning to attend are: Steve Bradley, Craig Lewis, Rusty Rinehart, Hugh Loomis, Tim Shea, Mike Evans, Scott Soder, Collin McIver, Larry Hermansen, Dave Bartlett, Greg Costa, and Jih Everett.

Girls are: Jacquie Pervier, Linda Thune, Bonnie Spent, Tina Kulkin, Margie Mendes, Collette Winther, Lynn Bartz, Chris Barnekow, Melanie Lank, Janice Holt, Theresa Gonzales, Kitty Cole, Debbie Cook and Julie Ashby.

OUR CANYON FRIENDS, who still have spring water instead of East Bay MUD, thought their well had run dry last week. Upon investigation, it was discovered that a spider had woven a web around the plunger keeping it from functioning as a plunger should. Which only goes to prove: "Oh what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to de-sieve."

Okay, I was going anyway.

Parrish Divorce Suit Is Filed

A divorce suit was filed in Contra Costa Superior Court recently by Mrs. Clarice Mabel Parrish against her husband, William Shannon Parrish, prominent Oakland attorney.

She charges Parrish with cruelty and asks for custody of their four children, a "reasonable sum per month in alimony" and an equitable community property settlement.

The Parrish home is 59 Via Hermosa, Orinda.

The Parrishes married July 2, 1944, in England. They have been separated since March 27, 1961, according to Martinez attorney James E. Cox, who filed the suit on behalf of Mrs. Parrish.

Course at U.C. To Be Based on Orinda Study

A three-day concentrated course, New Developments in Vision Health Education will be offered by the University of California in June, based on a research project conducted in the Orinda Union School District. This study, a pioneering work with far reaching influence for improving vision screening, was carried on with the assistance of Superintendent Sheaff, in cooperation with the University of California and Stanford Schools of Ophthalmology.

The principal investigators were Dr. H. Blum, director of the Contra Costa County Health Department; Dr. H. Peters and Dr. J. Bettman and was published by the University of California Press. This research on the sight of Orinda school children has attracted nationwide interest. The researchers, authors of the published results, dedicated their efforts in the following manner: "To the 'Mothers of Orinda' who, through their interest and assistance, contributed greatly to the success of this project."

THIS PIECE of handcraft quilted by 19 Girl Scouts of Troop 133, Lafayette, will soon be used by some needy family in the county. Posh Apts. Started by Rheem Land Construction has been started on "The Gardens of Rheem," a $650,000, 36-unit townhouse apartment complex.

Situated on Moraga Road, in Rheem, the new project is the first phase of a four-year, $11,700,000 multiple unit construction program being undertaken by Rheem California Land Company.

According to Richard S. Rheem, president, and Donald L. Rheem, chairman of the company, the construction of The Gardens of Rheem is a joint project with the Duffel-Smoot Companies of Rheem and Orinda.

Duffel-Smoot of Orinda are apartment and commercial builders and developers. Designers of the apartments are The Design Guild, winner of a Merit Award in the "House and Home" competition for Homes for Better Living.

Arranged around a terraced courtyard on a two and a half acre wooded knoll, the seven buildings will house one, two and three bedroom apartments. There will be a heated pool and cabana. Each unit will have a private patio and balcony. All buildings will be of frame construction.

Completion of the project is scheduled for September.

Neldam Speaks to National Bakers

Oakland baking executive, Jack Neldam, 29, returned from Philadelphia recently as the youngest president in the history of the Associated Retail Bakers of America.

Neldam, member of a prominent baking family established in the East Bay area for over 35 years, lives at 9 Corte Holganza, Orinda, with his wife, Pat, and their son Mike, 7.

Neldams have bakeries at Rheem Center, Moraga, and Telegraph Avenue, Oakland.

In his acceptance address before 4000 delegates from throughout the country, Neldam stated that the economy of the retail baking industry is now the healthiest it has ever enjoyed.

"The modern retail baker does not try to sell the home-maker on baked goods just like 'homemade,' because that isn't what she wants. For most women, even the self-appointed expert, cooking is a necessary hobby. She is limited with all-purpose ingredients, and looks to the skilled craftsman who can turn out things better than she can," Neldam told the ARBA.

Retail bakers, numbering 19,000 in the United States, gross more than $1 billion a year from products from their own ovens.

Richard C. Bartlett, state executive director, will speak. Bartlett will discuss the "Merit System." Both regional and chapter representative will have to vote on this system at the convention.

Wilson Speaks For Mutnick Candidacy

B. O. Wilson, former county superintendent of schools and chairman of the Citizens Committee for Hal Mutnick for Congress, has issued the following statement:

"Harold E. (Hal) Mutnick, Lafayette attorney and elected member of the Democratic County Central Committee, and candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman in the June 5 primary election, challenges the assertion in his opponent's campaign literature that the Democrats of Contra Costa County would have the choice of voting for a Republican on June 5.

"There are only Democrats on the printed Democratic primary ballot for partisan offices and any other assertion is an attempt to confuse and mislead the voters.

"The people of our county shall resent such an attempt at deception.

"Mutnick, who is an elected Democratic party official in our county, intends waging his campaign for the Democratic nomination for congressional office wholly on the basis of support of President John F. Kennedy and his domestic and foreign policy programs, and upon the needs and interests of the people of Contra Costa County being best served by a Democratic congressman who is a member of the Kennedy administration team," said Wilson.

Mott Speaks For Park Bond Issue

William Penn Mott Jr. of Orinda, Oakland city park superintendent, this week spoke in favor of Contra Costa County's proposed $7.5 million park bond issue.

The proposal, which will be Measure A on the June primary election ballot, calls for $5 million to acquire nearly 5,000 acres throughout the county and $2.5 million to construct park facilities.

Three of the proposed nine sites—Redwood Canyon near Moraga, Briones Hills north of Lafayette and the Oursan Valley near San Pablo Reservoir—would be purchased as surplus land from the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

"Contra Costa County has lagged considerably in its efforts to provide . . . open space resources that will permit people in the county to find education, inspiration and relaxation . . .," Mott commented.

" . . . there are those who say that we should secure EBMUD land for parks without cost since these lands already belong to the people."

He attacked the argument as "irrelevant and unattainable." "The policies of the district . . . do not permit this type of exchange," he said.

" . . . I do not feel that we should expect the district to relieve us of our responsibility to provide adequate park areas by arguing that some of this open space should be given to the county free of charge by EBMUD," Mott said.

Briones Park Scene of Tour Next Sunday

A second public tour of the proposed Briones Park, planned for acquisition as part of Contra Costa County's $7.5 million park bond issue, will be held between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Sunday.

A similar tour was held at the site April 22.

Hulet C. Hornbeck of Martinez, field trip chairman of the Citizens Committee of 500 for Parks, said guides will be available to answer questions.

The bond issue calls for $5 million to acquire nine sites totaling nearly 5000 acres and $2.5 million to construct park facilities.

Funds will be included to purchase a 670-acre addition to the 135 acres the county already owns at Briones Hills.

Political Pot

Efficiency Is Keynote Of Anderson Campaign

John A. Anderson of Orinda, candidate for the Republican nomination for 11th District Assemblyman, claims to be one of the "least influenced" political office seekers in the state.

To prove his contention, Anderson points out that he paid off all his debts before he threw his hat in the ring, obtained permission from the firm by which he is employed to work part-time and is using a $500 company bonus to defray all the ness efficiently in the operation of our state government," the assembly candidate insists.

Anderson added, "What we need is long-range planning and an effort to stop inflationary moves in California."

He belabored his opponent, Democratic incumbent, John Knox, on the matter of his voting record in the last session of the assembly.

Anderson accused Knox of voting against important measures. On the Rego-Dills act he was one of 11 no voters. He also voted against Assembly Bill 2376 to permit the highway patrol to use radar to catch speeders and to be used as evidence.

"Knox was one of only eight who voted against Assembly Bill 1553 which provides a way of closing loopholes in the state law to prevent subversive organizations from using public school rooms to hold their meetings," Anderson said.

One of the principal crusades of Anderson is for stronger anti-narcotic laws. He insists that California should adopt more stringent laws, such as Ohio has, where a person peddling dope to a minor is given a 40-year sentence without chance of parole.

AS FOR HIS more personal background, here are some of the statistics on the Republican assembly candidate:

The Andersons (there are two children) make their home at 188 Crest View Drive in Orinda. They attend the Trinity Methodist Church. Anderson is a member of the Scottish Rite bodies of the Masonic Lodge and a Phi Delta Theta.

In keeping with his background of efficiency engineering, the candidate belongs to the Society of Industrial Engineering, American Chemical Society and the Berkeley Toastmasters' Club.

Along with his campaigning, Anderson is sufficiently imbued with his regular job as a representative of Pfizer Laboratories to point out the advance of oral vaccine for protection against polio—exhorting those to whom he talks to use this new preventive medicine.

He calls the oral vaccine "efficient and sensible." That seems to be a key phrase in the Anderson thinking—in business, in politics or on the home front.

New Studies on Parks 'Wasteful' Says Burton

New studies into the advisability of purchasing $2.5 million of East Bay Municipal Utility District "surplus" land for county park development would be . . . wasteful of time, money and experience," according to Alvin Burton, founder of the County Park and Recreation Council.

Burton, in a letter to The Sun said:

"The present park plan and the park bond proposal is the result of six years of work by the County Park Division of the Public Works Department, and 10 years of consideration by such groups as the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council, the boatmen and horsemen associations and many similar organizations.

"The Board of Supervisors have followed these studies and made their decisions concerning them during all of this time.

"All possible sites in the county were studied, all the ways and means of financing were studied, and the present park plan and the bond issue is the result of this detailed study," said Burton.

The Park Commission meetings were always (and are) publicly announced and open to the public, the Park Division, the Park Commission and the Board of Supervisors were (and are) always willing to listen and consider new ideas, criticisms, or suggestions concerning park matters.

"It was during those formative years that any objections should have been made," Burton continued.

"It would be wasteful of time, money and experience to undertake new studies now which could only go over the same ground already so carefully covered during these past years.

"Furthermore, we would lose valuable time and take a chance on losing these good sites already chosen.

so carefully considered was the use or lease of land belonging to another agency.

"It doesn't take deep thought to realize possible dangers involved in such a proposal. If we make lease, or use arrangements with another agency we would always be hedged in by restrictions, always apprehensive that the land might be sold out from under us," said Burton.

"By buying the land outright we protect the land against further sale, we have freedom to develop and improve the land according to our needs, and any increase in the value of the land is increase that accrues to the county as owner.

"EBMUD has co-operated and participated in our study insofar as EBMUD was involved in our problems and will continue to do so whenever there is reason to," said Burton.

DEL REY will exhibit chalk studies at the art show open to the public Sunday from 1-5 p.m. in Pine Grove School auditorium. Left to right are: Jody Valencia, Kay Lidley, Del Rey teacher Ray Eujan and Linda Mauser.

ORINDA SCHOOL fifth graders will show clay models. Teacher Harold Ruby admires the work of students, left to right: Mark Smith, Sarah Lohse and John Meyer. "Haiku" is a form of Japanese poetry which the models were to depict.

SLEEPY HOLLOW fourth graders will feature mosaics which will later form a sun dial in one of the school's cement walks. Teacher Mrs. Claire Felsom observes 14 of the mosaics, displayed by Alison Everett and David Wallace.

Pittman Apts. Rejected By Planners' 6-1 Vote

IN REFERENCE to the Brookwood apartments, the Orinda Association presented the following statement to the planners: "The Brookwood Road rezoning was approved in 1958 because of the belief that a limited amount of multiple-family use appeared desirable... (it) was not intended to be a precedent opening the way to similar rezoning elsewhere in Orinda. Exactly the opposite view was stated: this land was rezoned because it would NOT allow for or encourage the spread of this use into areas intended for other purposes."

The commission also based their decision on the Soule ruling, which came up earlier on the agenda. Soule requested to rezone 38 acres at Lafayette's western entrance from agricultural to multiple. Soule, who planned to build luxury apartments on the site, had his request voted down 6-1.

IN ITS prepared statement to the planners, the Orinda Association referred to the Orinda North property, 190 acres between Pine Grove and Charles Hill roads:

"The land generally north and east of Mrs. Pittman's acre is undeveloped. Various plans for its development have been presented to the Orinda Association, and a plan currently under consideration would provide for maintenance of low residential density—on the order of two families per acre—while allowing for constructive and imaginative development. To preserve low density in this crucial area would be virtually impossible, however, if the adjoining land is rezoned to allow 29 families per acre."

Orinda North owners Jack Marchant, Les Guthrie and Don Doughty are currently working with the association to arrive at "something suitable" for the property.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL PROPERTY ON EXECUTION

TOM SNOOK, Plaintiff, vs. BILL YOST and W. JOHN MILLER, et al, Defendants. By virtue of a Writ of Execution issued out of the Municipal Court for the Walnut Creek Judicial District, County of Contra Costa, State of California, wherein TOM SNOOK is Plaintiff and W. JOHN MILLER is Defendant upon a judgment rendered by the said Court on the 19th day of January, 1962, for the sum of $1,027.56 in lawful money of the United States besides interest and costs, I have heretofore levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of W. JOHN MILLER, the above named judgment debtor, of, in and to the following described real property situated in the County of Contra Costa, State of California, to-wit: A portion of lot 122 as shown on the map entitled "Moraga Estates, Contra Costa County, California," filed on November 2, 1936, in the office of the County Recorder of said County, in Book 22 of Maps at page 627. PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that I will on WEDNESDAY, the sixth (6th) day of June, 1962, at 10:30 o'clock a.m. of said day, in front of the main entrance of the Court House of the County of Contra Costa, located in the City of Martinez, County of Contra Costa, State of California, sell at PUBLIC AUCTION, for lawful money of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendant and judgment debtor, W. JOHN MILLER, of, in and to the above described real property or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient money to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder.

Dated: Martinez, California, May 11, 1962.
WALTER F. YOUNG, Sheriff, Contra Costa County, California.

A previous effort to build on the land was blocked, largely through the efforts of the association. The previous owners were represented by Bernard Muth.

The present Orinda North plan would locate multiple units on the forward slopes toward the business district and Orinda Way.

THE PINE GROVE area would contain administrative office construction with some "green belt" areas. The side toward the freeway would also provide green belt area.

Behind the slopes, the developer plans single family homes on approximately half-acre lots. The front area would not require the heavy grading necessary for single family lots, since the multiples would cluster in three groups.

Altorfer Given UC Citation

Hans Altorfer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Altorfer, 42 Hillcrest Drive, Orinda, was given a University of California Departmental Citation for 1962 recently.

His name has been inscribed on a scroll which has a permanent place in the school of business administration. Altorfer Jr. is a graduate of Acalanes High School where he played tackle. He was a member of the junior varsity and varsity football teams, and earned two letters.

Among the young man's other honors and activities are: Phi Beta Kappa honor society; Beta Gamma Sigma national honor society for business administration.

Since 1958, he has been the recipient of four scholarships.

The citation was on the basis of his academic record.

without regard to race, color, creed or national origin."

"It would seem that the number of Orinda residents sympathetic to Open Housing might be larger than the 563 published signers considering these facts," stated Mrs. Rudolf Grah of the OCCU.

1. NOT ALL Orinda residents were contacted.

2. Attempt was not generally made to obtain more than one adult signature in a home, i.e. Mr. and Mrs.

3. Some were sympathetic but did not believe in signing things.

4. Some were sympathetic but were not ready to sign.

5. Some signed but withheld publishing of names.

6. The Open Housing Covenant has not been made available since 1961.

7. VERY FEW Orinda residents consider themselves prejudiced to people of other race, religion, creed or national origin.

In view of this sizable group it would seem proper that the realtors in the Orinda community should be sensitive to the affirmed intention of the signers of the Open Housing Covenant to support open housing in Orinda," said Mrs. Grah.

DeMolay Elects First Officers

Orinda chapter of DeMolay held its first official meeting Wednesday evening to elect officers. Stuart Henderson, chapter advisor presided.

Bryan Prinn was elected master counselor; Chip Smith, senior counselor; Gary Center, Jr., counselor; Bill Hamilton, treasurer and Steve Dudley, secretary.

Of the 51 members, 48 were in attendance. Special guests included Jerry Fairley, supervisor of rituals for the district, chapter advisors and dads.

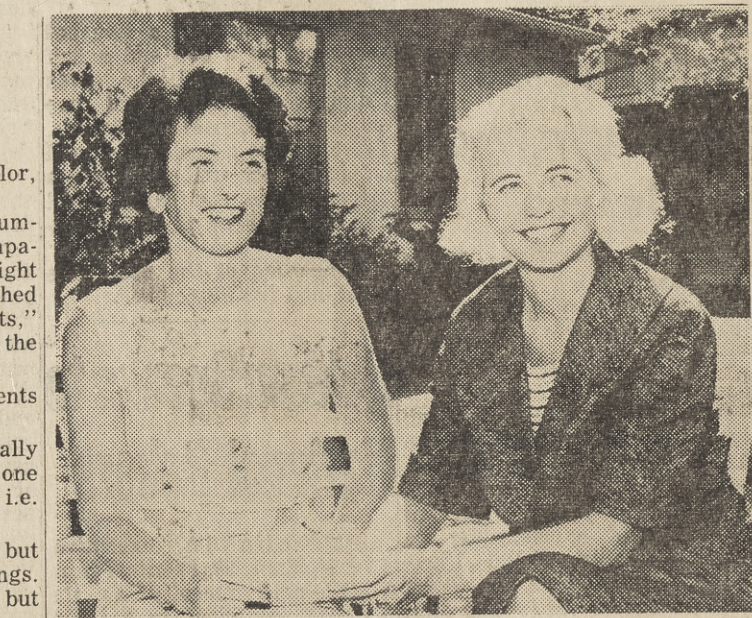

Boys that are interested in DeMolay should contact Stuart Henderson.

Artists to Shine

Art work by students of all seven schools of the Orinda district will be on display Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Pine Grove auditorium, at the third annual Orinda Union School District-Wide Art Show.

All persons interested in children's art are invited to attend this free showing, which will include two and three-dimensional work, as well as traditional painting.

Youngsters have prepared giant murals which combine the efforts of an entire class. Clay has been used as a medium, mobiles will swing from above, and examples of sculpture in plaster of Paris and asbestos will be exhibited. The ancient art of basketry has produced several noteworthy objects.

Under the direction of district art teacher Florence G. Rossi, young people participating attend Inland Valley and Pine Grove Intermediate schools, and Glorietta, Sleepy Hollow, Orinda, Del Rey and Inland Valley Elementary schools.

It is a true community project. Not only are all students in the district represented, but parents from every school have volunteered their assistance in transportation of art work to the show.

Western Sand and Brick have donated building blocks. Illustration board has been donated. The maintenance departments and parents of all the schools will assist in setting up this giant exhibit.

Lettering of identification cards for the various classes will be done by Mrs. William Cook and Mrs. Frank Davis, so that proud parents and friends may easily locate certain artistic creations.

Miss Gompertz Is Awarded Scholarship

Joanne Gompertz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Gompertz, 21 Santa Lucia, Orinda, won a regent's scholarship to study at the University of California School of Medicine at San Francisco. The announcement was made by President Clark Kerr recently.

The award is among the first under a new scholarship program inaugurated by the regents. It will be effective in the fall.

Awards were made to 64 entering freshmen, to 34 continuing students and to seven transfers beginning their junior year

Landscape Architect To Address MVCC

The Moraga Valley Community Club will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the Donald L. Rheem School kindergarten room. Franklin Collins, Lafayette, a member of the American Society of Landscape Architects, will be speaker.

His topic will be "Residential Landscape Architecture." Charles Wright, president of the MVCC, invites all interested to attend.

Selections, made by the individual campuses, were on the basis of both demonstrated achievement and promise, without regard to financial need.

Anyone Want to Play Softball This Summer?

Any group or individual interested in playing softball in Orinda this summer should contact Bernard Caldwell, CL 4-0908.

The league, formed last year, had four teams.

An organizational meeting was held last week. Caldwell hopes to have six teams or more in the league this year.

The first games will be played the first part of July.

Bi-Partisan Picnic for Baldwin Set on June 2

Final plans have been made for a county-wide "Bi-Partisan Picnic" for Congressman John Baldwin for Saturday, June 2, at Curry Creek Park, 12 miles east of Concord on the Marsh Creek Road.

More than 5000 tickets have been sent to county residents, according to the committee co-chairmen, Hamilton Bond of Lafayette and Laurence Corbett, Walnut Creek.

"We are establishing ticket distribution points throughout the county," the co-chairmen explained.

"We want every resident in Contra Costa County to know they are invited, and will be personally welcomed by Congressman Baldwin at the picnic," they added.

BALDWIN is flying out from Washington especially to attend the huge affair, according to a committee spokesman.

He will visit constituents attending the picnic, both in personal conversation at individual picnics and during a mass ceremony scheduled for 2 p.m.

Admission donation for persons from 16 years and older is $1. Donations for children's tickets for youngsters 6 to 15 is 25 cents, and will be available only at the gate. Children 6 and younger will be admitted free.

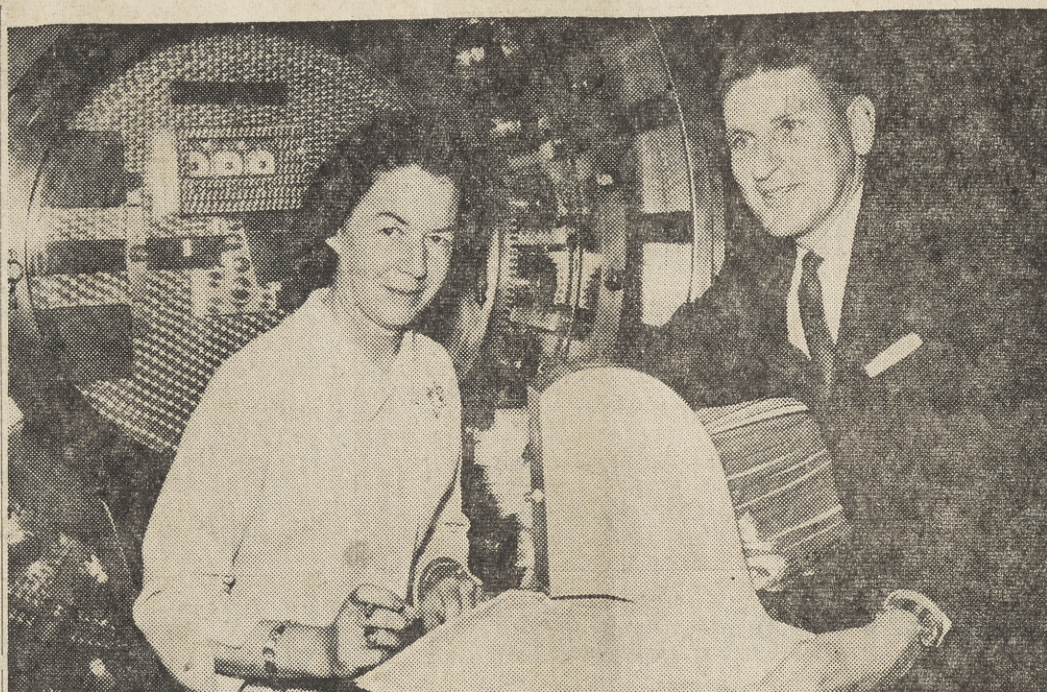

"We want all residents to bring their children, neighbors, friends and relations. We want them to bring their picnic baskets, game equipment and swimming suits to swim in the huge Olympic-sized Curry Creek pool," the spokesman said.

Tickets can be obtained at the Baldwin office, 998 Hough Avenue, Lafayette.

Sheriff's Office Caseload Large In Past Month

Sheriff Walter F. Young's department reported today a total of 2209 details were handled by the patrol division during the month of April.

Among the total details, 89 arrests were made by the patrolmen, assistance was extended to other agencies regarding 50 incidents, 250 warrants were handled with a complete service of 167. Patrol also made 1006 public assembly checks.

John Muir Has Plan to Honor Gift Memorials

Honoring loved ones with gifts to John Muir Memorial Hospital is an increasingly popular expression of thoughtfulness in this area, according to Mrs. Glen Hansen, hospital auxiliary remembrance chairman.

An artist's sketch of Mount Diablo, as viewed from the site for the soon-to-be-built community hospital, distinguishes the gift announcement cards. Smaller, matching cards of acknowledgement are mailed to donors.

Memorial Day is one of many year-around occasions for which this kind of remembrance is appropriate and warmly appreciated, Mrs. Hansen says.

"For commemoration of anniversaries, birthdays, promotions, and occasions of gratitude, these gifts are memorable and practical."

Junior Museum Offers Summer Workshop Plan

Diablo Junior Museum is again presenting a summer workshop program for all youngsters of the area offering an experience for children to meet animals and wildlife on natural terms. The Junior Museum will conduct one workshop in the art room at the Walnut Creek School. This program will begin the week of Monday, June 18, and continue through Saturday, July 28, the day of the annual Science Fair. The fee is $6, payable in advance.

This program will involve one two-hour period per week, which will include work in both field and classroom. The instructor will be Gene Goselin, biology instructor, Pleasant Hill High School.

The Diablo Valley College program will begin the week of June 18 and run for six weeks through July 28. It will involve a lab session and a field trip for children to meet animals and wildlife on natural terms. Each week for all participants, under the direction of Dr. Fred Ruth of the Diablo Valley College staff. The child must be 10 years or older to enroll in this course.

Since enrollment in both programs is limited, parents are urged to direct inquiries as soon as possible to: Diablo Junior Museum, Box 1213, Walnut Creek.

Beginning Thursday, May 24 and each Tuesday and Thursday thereafter, between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., the museum office will be staffed to answer telephone inquiries.

Hot Race for State Supt. of Instruction

For the first time in 17 years, there will be a new California superintendent of public instruction elected on June 5, and nine men want the job.

Roy E. Simpson, 69, was paid $20,000 per year to be principal advisor to the State Board of Education, the State Legislature and even local school boards.

The Sun hereby submits a brief rundown on each candidate, hoping that this will assist its readers in a controversial race.

If no single candidate receives a majority in the primary election, there will be a runoff in November between the two men who get the most votes.

The information below is provided by the California League of Women Voters, which posed this question for each candidate: Do you favor changes in California's basic educational policies to insure a proper education for every child?

CHARLES M. BERLESE Sacramento

Eleven years of classroom experience; presently engineering instructor, American River Junior College, Sacramento; registered professional electrical engineer, State of California.

To make the State of California educational program second to none; reduce classroom interruptions to a minimum. Emphasize standards of achievement and require them for advancement, reduce duplication of programs in the junior high school, high school and junior college.

Recognize that the primary function of public education is to teach the basic skills and knowledge and to demonstrate our democratic traditions and heritage to the school age.

Assure each child an education worthy of his talent by providing adequate physical facilities and a realistic vocational aptitude testing program.

WILLARD M. BROWN Lomita

Teacher, psychometrist, and superintendent, Superintendent schools, Lyons, Cal., 1947-48. Acting vice-principal, Poly Adult School, Los Angeles public relations, Los Angeles City Schools.

Planning for education in California must not be secondary to any other enterprise.

By pooling the vast resources of labor, industry, education and government we can develop the finest educational program that the world has ever known.

We have everything we need—the manpower, the experience, the resources and the insight to do the job. What we need to do now is to:

Stimulate and integrate master planning at all levels of the educational process.

Emphasize anticipation of needs on a long-range basis for all aspects of education.

EVERETT T. CALVERT West Covina

Pasadena City School administrator 14 years. Taught at USC and Yale. California state curriculum commissioner three years. Editor-in-chief of two publishing companies. Land investment business.

California's basic educational program is essentially sound. However, vigorous leadership can help strengthen it in many ways.

We need a better review and mastery of the fundamental skills before high school graduation to insure proficiency when graduates go to work or to college.

Place more emphasis on the emotional factors involved in instilling and inspiring loyalty to our nation and faith in and allegiance to our Constitution, etc., the Bill of Rights, our free enterprise economic system, etc. Facts and information alone are not enough.

The entire textbook problem must have an intensive study by a competent group of professional people and other citizens including legislators, school boards, labor, and industry.

WALLACE W. HALL Belvedere

Elementary, general secondary, junior college, general administration. Teacher and school administrator.

Marin County superintendent of schools, 1951-58, and state associate superintendent of public instruction since 1958.

1. The basic educational policies have been set forth as follows:

The public school is:

1. "... the major agency by which society assures both its stability and its evolution.
2. "... based upon a firm belief in the integrity and worth of the individual.
3. "... committed irrevocably to strive for equal educational opportunity for all.
4. "... dedicated to the ideal that human liberty is best guaranteed through representative government and democratic processes.
5. "... of itself a recognition that only an enlightened people may safely exercise liberty and wisely pursue happiness." (California Teachers Association Bulletin.)

CECIL D. HARDESTY La Jolla

Regional director, California Commission on School District Organization. Superintendent, San Jose City Schools. Superintendent of Schools, San Diego County from 1950.

Has lectured at USC and San Diego State College.

California's public schools must provide a program aimed to meet the needs of all of California's children.

This requires special programs for special needs of the handicapped, and differentiated programs for the gifted.

The total program must aim to challenge every pupil to realize his maximum potential.

We must have excellence in the schools, in all phases of the curriculum, at all levels, for all the students. California can have and must have the best schools in the nation.

It is not that our schools are not good—they are—but that exigencies of the time suddenly require that we increase the tempo of improvement.

C. O'DONNELL LEE West Covina

University of California specification engineer, East San Gabriel Valley Citizens Committee chairman 1958-60.

Certainly not! In our generation, California's basic educational policies have always been better than good, abreast of the times on any national scale.

To insure a proper educational program for every child what is required is: 1. Vigorous doses of hard work to resolve the mounting multiplicity of minor administrative challenges posed by our expanding suburbia.

The announced retirement of Dr. Roy Simpson poses a difficult problem.

Probably no educator on the national scene may point with so much pride to literally having hurdled the greatest population explosion of any century while retaining so much local control for community schools.

2. Immediate expansion of the department's advisory consulting reaching legislative committees, county committees and local schools, to erase local tax inequities which seriously hamper academic excellence throughout the state (in accordance with recent studies and department recommendations).

MAX RAFFERTY La Canada

District principal, Big Bear Senior High School. Superintendent, Saticoy Elementary School District, Superintendent Needles Elementary and High School Districts. Superintendent, La Canada Unified School District, 1961-62.

I favor basic changes in our textbook policy, our elementary curriculum, and our teacher credential requirements.

I favor a greater emphasis upon the scholastic achievement of our so-called "average" children. I favor stressing the importance of our cultural heritage.

Knowledge is like a fragile but many compartmented ark, precariously breasting the hostile torrent of the centuries.

Each generation takes what it needs from the 50-odd cells which its predecessors have toiled so painfully to build and to fill, and in turn erects its own, placing within its cell all that its own time has found good.

Thus, the contents of the ark grow and gleam a little more brightly each decade with the jewels which genius has so slowly and lovingly added.

"Adjustment" as an educational goal is a pricked balloon.

RALPH RICHARDSON Woodland Hills

Associate professor of English and Speech, University of California at Los Angeles, on personal leave during the campaign.

President, Los Angeles City Board of Education, elected to board in 1957, re-elected in April, 1961. 1958-59, planning and research secretary to the Governor of California.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction must provide courageous, forceable, and effective leadership.

Our students must be taught to read, write, and spell well, and to reason well and to adapt to a world of science and creativity.

This we must do without wasting energy in name-calling about "progressive education" or the "3 Rs."

All children should be assured of equal educational opportunity and expected to work toward standards of excellence.

Worthwhile homework assignments which extend learning must be expanded.

That patriotism is best which is based upon understanding and affection, not upon fear or arrogance.

I want a patriotism built not alone upon looking backward, but on looking around and ahead to the United States as a leader for world freedom.

While we study our traditions, our students should be alerted to the threat of opposing systems. Students need to be specially taught the nature and challenge of communism.

The state should assume a greater share of public education cost to relieve property owners who must pay increasingly high local taxes.

LAURENCE N. WOLFE Monterey Park

Teacher four years, Baldwin Park High School. Member, board of education, Alhambra School District, four years (1956-60).

To improve the schools: Two absolute "musts": Emphasis, throughout the primary years must be placed on teaching the child to use the basic tools of learning: reading, writing and arithmetic.

The school child must be held answerable for his part in his own education.

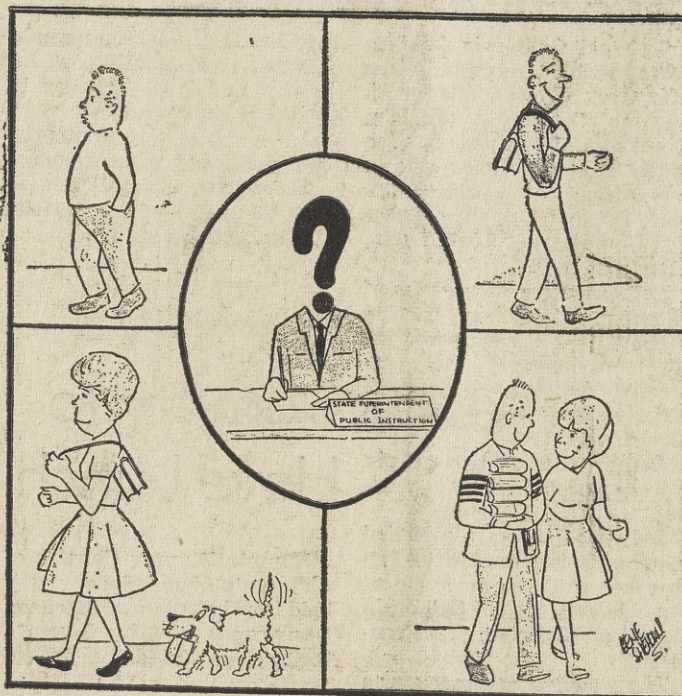

The child has a responsibility to acquire the knowledge he needs, and he owes it to himself and his country to perform this task.

The slackness we deplore in so many of our children is largely the fault of the damaging practice of "automatic" promotion in the schools.

Promotion of a given child from one grade to the next should be the teacher's affidavit that he has achieved certain goals.

No child who has not mastered the foundation skills (reading, writing, arithmetic) should be passed on from the primary to the secondary school.

We Like It Here...

By MARIE MONAHAN

I'M GLAD Vacation Time is coming. We ALL need a rest! Frankly, I'm absolutely worn out from School!

The month of May has been Pure Mayhem. All the activities crammed into a collective three weeks. Mere preliminaries to June & graduation!

What started innocently enough with Public Schools Week & three Open Houses three nights running (running literally, in rotating shifts!), merged into a kind of Merry-Go-Round Madhouse for the next few weeks.

Adults & children were wound up like so many mechanical toy figures & what home life there was resembled a movie-reel racing full-speed.

TWO NIGHTS in a row there was an all-school music festival which DID give us a chance to sit down to soothe what's becoming a chronic case of heartburn. One little boy in the chorus fell asleep with his mouth agape but the song was Oooooooklahoma! so his napping was scarcely noticed.

The same week, our busy Suburbia dedicated a new Post Office with a nice ceremony, held the annual relay & games day at the grade school simultaneous with the traditional Church Carnival, the junior youngsters rehearsed for a Talent Night Show, (an encore of this!), planned & held a school carnival & fashioned paper flowers for a forthcoming dance.

The grade school tots, who were in on almost everything, took to the playgrounds for the annual May Dance Festival. To which Mamas flocked to photograph their dancing sons & daughters who had practiced their polkas & pivots to a perfection far better than their P's & Q's.

There wasn't much homework. Hardly! Mainly because the Kiddies would have fallen asleep over their books, I suppose. OUR HIGH SCHOOL Parents put on a tremendous show & dance that took weeks of rehearsal for students, teachers, moms & pops & the activities of scouting, confirmation time, etcetera, etcetera filled in full the crowded calendar.

Our grade school will finish out the frantic month by having a Memorial Day picnic in Tilden Park but the only weenie-roasting we'll be doing will be right in our own backyard. Home, Sweet Home! We want a chance to enjoy it!

WELL, no one can say our generation of parents is not a sturdy lot.

We may indeed be harried, but we ARE sturdy & stout-hearted. Mentally & emotionally limp perhaps, but our stamina falters not at the saturation point of no return.

Where is the dinner-table ceremony of yesterday—the daily looked-forward to family event, to be lingered over, conversationally livened, lovingly appreciated? Nothing short of a Black October or WAR could interfere with this peaceful pause at the end of the days gone by.

NOWADAYS, poor Pop, the breadwinner-member whose health we need to preserve & pamper, can't even slip into his slippers when he comes home at the end of his working day. Not, at least, till he's cased the kitchen calendar.

We have scheduled & organized ourselves & our offspring right into a straitjacket of activity. We're beginning to strain at the taut seams. Out of which we are all about to burst!

Oh, I almost forgot. Baseball Summer League started during this same period. But it won't interfere with summer vacation. It's all over & done with shortly after School is out.

I'M GLAD I'm not a student having to take any tests, or those SRA Achievement things, during this hectic period.

My head is so full of feathers, I would have flunked.

THE CHILDREN, they've got YOUTH on their side.

STUDIED

Dear Editor:

The point in question in this county is the need for permanent purchase of suitable park land, while it is still available for park and recreational development.

In this connection, outright purchase versus lease of public utility lands in the county has been carefully studied.

The benefits of immediate ownership for purposes of construction and development of park and recreational facilities have been weighed against the limitations imposed on land-use planning by anything short of permanent acquisition.

On a basis of the facts that have been determined for Contra Costa County, and from the experience and history of progress in park acquisition in other localities in the state, we believe that the bond issue being presented at this time is worthy of the wholehearted support of the electorate.

CURTIS NEWCOMB.

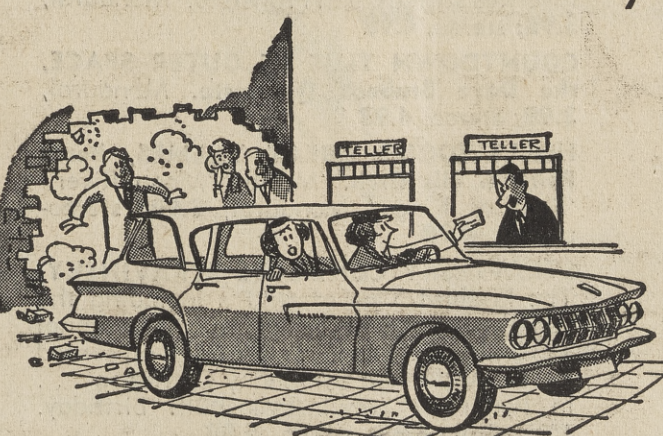

SHORTLY—

Regarding the latest "super-intended" headlines: There is an old adage, "If you can't convince 'em, confuse 'em." Ch... well, I sure am!

LEAGUE SPEAKS

Dear Editor:

The League of Women Voters of Concord-Diablo Valley has just completed "a study and evaluation of proposals for Contra Costa County parks and recreation, including acquisition, development and financing."

As a result of our findings, we support without reservations, the proposed County Park Bond issue.

Norman Colby (Sun associate editor) has stated the points at issue (May 4) clearly and concisely, and additional comments to that article would seem unnecessary.

HOWEVER, a few people in the community apparently feel nothing should be done in the way of acquiring park sites until more exhaustive meetings are held with EBMUD officials.

This letter is not meant to minimize their interest or concern, but time and growth will not stop while unproductive talks continue. Each year land values in this county increase, and each year more land is bought and developed by industry and business.

So between these pressures (increased land values and development) lie the future of our county park sites and the time to insure the availability of such facilities is now.

When this bond issue is passed, the people will own the parks and all buildings and improvements that will be a part of them.

TO LEASE or rent property for such usage would be taking the taxpayers' money to improve and develop land that would eventually revert to the owner.

A slight increase in our county taxes seems to be a small price to pay to insure recreation areas for future generations. We all benefit from the foresight of those of past generations, surely our responsibility is not less than theirs.

Let us not be guilty of 20/20 vision when it comes only to hindsight.

MRS. WALTER SCHAMEL, President, LVV Concord-Diablo Valley

IMPERATIVE

Dear Editor:

It is imperative that Proposition A, the park bond proposal, be approved by the voters!

It is now or never for most of this land. The proposed plan is a sound one and a result of over six years' study by well-qualified people.

We must put this plan into action immediately or Contra Costans will be forced to commute to recreation areas.

The question has been brought up that public land would be sold back to the public.

Most of East Bay Municipal Utility District is represented by Alameda County people.

In fact, only a part of Contra Costa citizens are members of the utility district. The EBMUD is offering this choice land to the county at a fraction of its market value if it is used for public parks.

If we don't act now, this same land could be sold to the open market and therefore be lost forever to the people of Contra Costa County...

LEASING

Dear Editor:

For some time now The Sun has concerned itself with certain aspects of Proposition A, the Park Bond Issue, rather than the essential merit and community value of the parks which would be created by this proposition.

Indeed, there seems to be no question of the need for parks, nor is there disagreement on the point that the citizens of Contra Costa County will never be able to secure the needed lands any cheaper than now.

The chief reason for the lack of full endorsement of this proposition by The Sun seems to lie in the question as to why the taxpayer should buy lands already owned by East Bay Municipal Utility District, a public body.

A further question is raised as to whether or not leasing these lands might not be a good idea, that is, save the taxpayer money.

It seems to me that there are several objections to the leasing proposal. Assuming the lands were leased for say, 99 years, and assuming they were leased at a very attractive cost from the taxpayer's viewpoint, what would be the status of these lands at the end of the lease period?

Would the taxpayer then have to acquire these lands at market prices 99 years (or whatever period) from now? MURRAY MCNEIL

Sun Recommends Yes On County Park Bonds

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Before tackling today's column subject, let me point to the other side of this page — the outside columns where you usually find editorials. Today it is devoted to brief sketches and statements by candidates for the state superintendent of schools. This is an important office and, once a man is elected, he usually serves for many years. Because so little has been printed on these candidates, The Sun offers this material assembled by the California League of Women Voters.

One of the most difficult tasks The Sun performs is to endorse candidates and propositions at elections. We're well aware that our recommendations are not of earth-shaking significance, that Sun readers are intelligent people who will vote their convictions. But we try to study a candidate or proposition carefully before making a recommendation.

You'll vote on this

Let's look at the county park bond issue on your June ballot.

Shall we recommend Yes or No?

It would have been very simple some months ago to simply say parks are needed, so let's don't bother analyzing this county bond issue. Let's automatically endorse it.

Remember—parks are like motherhood and apple pie—you can't be against them.

What's the hurry?

We decided to take our time, gather information and study the proposal—even though it took time.

At this point, let me interject that The Sun is recommending a "YES" vote on county park bonds.

This recommendation is arrived at after wrestling with facts, theories, proposals over a period of time. I found myself at times definitely on the "no" side; then, I'd talk to some of the proponents and swing over to the "yes" side.

A major study

The opponents of this measure present some good ideas, some valid arguments. They propose, for example, that a sweeping study be made to tie in the facilities and existing organizations of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, the Regional Parks System, and the counties of Alameda and Contra Costa.

There is no question that EBMud could and should take a positive role in the park and recreation program of this area. EBMud's land policies, past and present, are certainly open to question.

However, if EBMud's board of directors were changed tomorrow, it would not solve these problems. And the board won't be changed tomorrow. We must face reality, today's reality. There are a lot of things that should be done but aren't being done. There are practical and political problems.

Meanwhile, can we wait? Should this bond issue be voted down, our park program jeopardized while we search for new answers?

And we agree...

The Sun agrees with this statement by Mrs. Walter Schamel, president of the League of Women Voters, which has endorsed the bond issue:

"... a few people... apparently feel nothing should be done in the way of acquiring park sites until more exhaustive meetings are held with EBMud officials. This letter is not meant to minimize their interest or concern, but time and growth will not stop while unproductive talks continue."

"Each year land values in this county increase and each year more land is bought and developed... the time to insure the availability of such facilities is now."

Today's column is not meant to cover the pros and cons of the bond issue. In past weeks and months, as well as in today's Sun, arguments have been aired. The Sun has purposely raised questions and sought answers about this proposal. I believe this is healthy. This should help you decide how to vote.

The Sun recommends a yes vote.

CAN'T WAIT

Dear Editor:

The suggestion which Robert Kahn makes that we, as owner-taxpayers of EBMUD, already own the watershed lands and therefore should not have to buy them for parks, is not a new one.

I have heard it discussed by various groups several times during the past 15 years; but EBMUD is not at all receptive to it, and is not about to change its land sales policies to accommodate us.

Any change in those policies would have to be brought about by action of the voters (most of whom live in Alameda County) or by the legislature.

We cannot postpone a park bond issue indefinitely, hoping that such a change in policy may occur. Such a change in policy is a separate issue, because the source of its solution lies largely outside our county.

WHERE IS the precedent for Mr. Kahn's suggested procedure? Neither The Sun nor Mr. Kahn protested when the Orinda School District purchased land from EBMUD for the Pine Grove School and for the proposed new schools at the old Wagner ranch.

Currently The Sun is urging the Orinda Association to buy more land from EBMUD. According to Mr. Kahn's idea we already own this land, so why are you urging us to buy it?

Mr. Kahn knows that the East Bay Regional Park District purchased park lands from EBMUD; he also knows that the people of certain cities of Alameda County have paid for and maintain Tilden Park and the other regional parks which we residents of Contra Costa County have used freely.

Should these taxpayers of Alameda County, who are also taxpayers in EBMUD, be expected to give us land for our county parks?

I HAVE talked with many people about the "Robert Kahn story" as it appears repetitively each week in The Sun. Most of these people thought the issue raised was too preposterous to warrant discussion. Whether or not this is an accurate analysis, it is time, I believe, to quit playing this single refrain for a while and consider some other points of view.

When, for example, have you published Mr. Mattison's explanation of the park bond proposal?

JAMES G. HUPP

Editor's note: Mattison's explanation ran in The Sun, May 4, front page, at considerable length. Among other Sun news stories in favor of parks is the banner headline story April 27 on page 6, quoting Alvin Burton, founder of the County Park and Recreation Council.

Women in The Sun

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1962

SWALLOW UNIT of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will present its third annual "Come Dance With the Barn Swallows," June 2 at Silva's Barn Diablo. Farmerettes for the evening will be Mrs. Thomas Bridgeford, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Bruce Stringer, decorations chairman and Mrs. Robert Olson, co-chairman.

Follow Swallow Signs

"Swallow" signs will mark the way to Silva's Barn in Diablo next Saturday evening when the Swallow Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center presents its third annual "Come Dance With the Barn Swallows."

Red barn dance bids have been mailed inviting guests to arrive or cocktails at 7:30, dinner at 8:30. Dancing, entertainment and games will follow.

Dinner will be served outdoors and encouragement is given by Mrs. John Gilcrest, food chairman, to "eat all you can hold."

Decorations chairman, Mrs. Bruce Stringer and Mrs. Robert Olson, and their committee are busily converting the barn into a dance setting. They are replacing tractors and implements with cocktail tables and bar equipment and adding colorful decorations.

Mrs. James Simonds has the chore of lighting the huge barn and outdoor eating area, as well as the selection of numerous gifts and prizes.

Mrs. Philip Chance is arranging music for dancing and will be in charge of entertainment. Part of the entertainment will be the games planned by Mrs. Richard Emory.

Mrs. Ted Barcelon, unit president, and Mrs. Arthur Di Grazia, are making bar arrangements alongside the walnut hoppers. Mrs. Thomas Bridgeford will set up her guest list table adjacent to the sacking equipment.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Gordon Frazell, who was in charge of the dance bids and publicity; Mrs. Richard Bishop, tickets.

All proceeds go to the center for the continued help to rehabilitate the handicapped.

Peggy Gompertz Is Now Mrs. John Huntington

Two old California families were united recently when Margaret (Peggy) Gompertz became the bride of John Brockway Huntington. The lovely simple wedding was in the garden of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Langdon Gompertz, 21 Santa Lucia, Orinda.

Peggy wore a short dress of champagne silk and carried a bouquet of garden roses for the ceremony. It was performed by the Rev. Fred Stripp of the University of California.

Joanne (Jody) Gompertz was her sister's only attendant.

Jody was recently awarded a regent's scholarship to further her study of medicine at the University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco.

The wedding ceremony was attended only by family members.

Peggy is the granddaughter of Mrs. Charles W. Gompertz and the late Mr. Gompertz, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bates of Piedmont.

Her brother is Charles B. Gompertz of Berkeley.

Peggy changed to a taupe colored Italian silk suit for going away.

The bridegroom is the son of Marion Huntington of San Francisco. He asked his brother-in-law, Donald G. Davis of Belvedere, to be his best man.

John is a grandson of the late Henry E. Huntington who founded the Huntington Library and Art Gallery in Southern California.

A supper in the Gompertz home followed the ceremony. The newlyweds will live in Tiburon after their honeymoon in Southern California.

Humpty Dumpty to Have Lunch

Humpty Dumpty Chapter of Children's Home Society will hold an installation luncheon tomorrow at Mike Lynn's Restaurant, Orinda.

Mrs. Baxter Kimbrough, outgoing president, will relinquish her gavel to Mrs. Robert Ingersoll, who was elected at the April meeting.

Other officers to be installed for the year 1962-63 are: Mrs. Kenneth Parkhurst, vice president; Mrs. Richard Ormsby, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Oliver Ingersoll, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Becker, treasurer.

Mrs. Ingersoll has appointed the following committee chairmen to the executive board: Membership, Mrs. Harry Alendorph; publicity, Mrs. John D. Fehd, Jr.; volunteer, Mrs. W. Don Lyons; ways and means, Mrs. Warren French. Mrs. Kimbrough will serve as parliamentarian.

First meeting to be conducted by the new officers, which is also the final meeting before summer vacation, will be June 13, at the PG&E Building in Walnut Creek.

Reports on accomplishments of the chapter during the past year will be given. Members will discuss the chapter's participation in the annual bazaar and carnival to be held at the society headquarters in Oakland, September 28, as well as the next fund raising event planned for the fall. Hostesses for the June meeting will be Mrs. Becker and Alendorph.

Children's Home Society members will also be assisting in the United Crusade drive during October, since the society has recently become a participating recipient of Crusade funds in Contra Costa County.

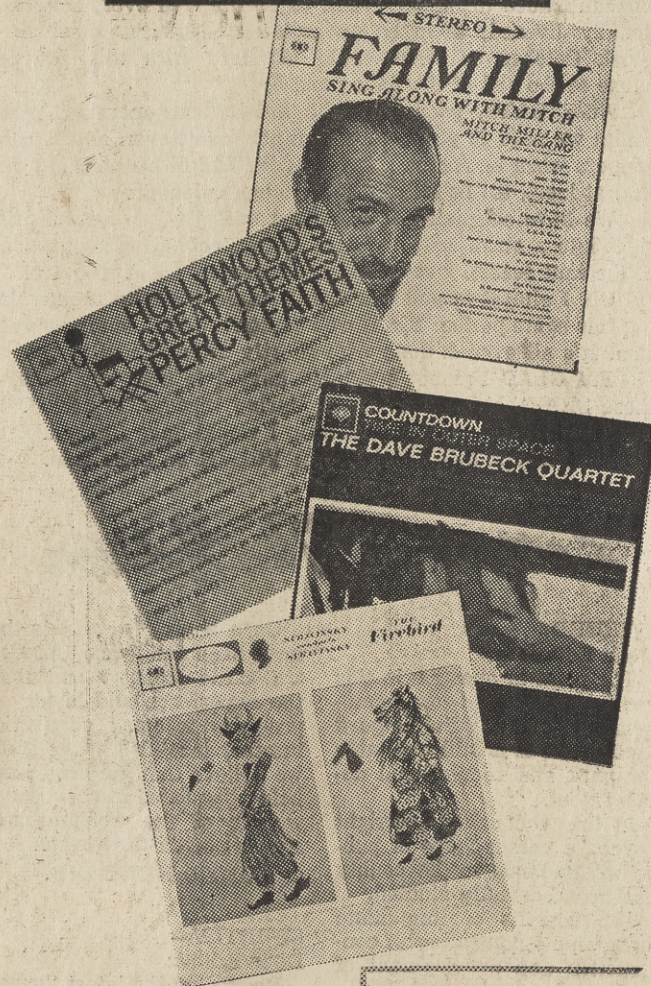

Neighbors Give Bride-Elect a Surprise Shower

A miscellaneous surprise bridal shower was given by Mrs. Elmer Anderson recently. Honoree was Pat Nimmo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nimmo of Los Palos, Lafayette.

Pat will be married June 23 to Tom McLain. The young couple plan to make New York their home.

Among the neighbors who attended the affair were the Mmes. William English, Alec Arrighi, Paul Hein, Fletcher Young, Richard Krouse, Harry Sommers, Gilbert Meyers, William Bennioff, Stan Hill, Robert Pearson, Russell Hufft, Donald Waldman, Herman Silverman, Charles Nimmo and Miss Linda Anderson.

Lombardy House Tour

Six architecturally different and distinctive homes have been selected by Lombardy Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay for its first home tour on Tuesday.

Tour hours will be between 1 and 4 p.m., with refreshments to be served from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the gardens of the Orinda home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Daly, according to branch chairman, Mrs. Thomas M. Howard.

Homes representative of several eras of design and decoration will range from the spacious contemporary of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bannister to the charming colonial of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Anderson.

The itinerary also will include the unusual Swiss chalet of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Read and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Downs, known throughout the area for its tasteful and exciting decor. Of great popular appeal will be the authentic Oriental contemporary residence of Dr. and Mrs. E. Allen Goldsmith.

Mrs. Edward A. Law, Jr., chairman of the tour, has named to serve on her committee Mmes. G. Bruce Montgomery, refreshments; Richard P. Kendall, hostess; Ronald G. Kersh and William D. Leonard, arrangements; and Hugh F. MacIntyre, flower decorations. Mrs. Law, at CL 4-3178, is in charge of tickets.

The tour will benefit the hospital's medical services to thousands of East Bay area children. The outpatient clinic at the hospital is on an almost 100 per cent part-pay basis, and derives the bulk of its support from the activities of the branches.

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1962

SOUTH SEAS was the motif when the Business and Professional Women's Club of Lafayette had their installation to right: Mmes. Fred Theile, Robert Cook, John Lea, Francis Nicklas, Gordon Ferreira, Sam Fitzpatrick, Eleanor McLennan and Edward Hampton.

Professional Women Club Shirla May Carlson Is Recent Bride

A South Sea Island atmosphere predominated when the Lafayette Business and Professional Women's Club had their annual installation dinner at Mike Lynn's, Orinda, recently.

Alice Cook, the outgoing president, was presented a past president's pin, scrapbook and bracelet by Mimi Cummings, also a past president.

President Gayle Lea presented the chairmen for the coming year. Mistress of ceremonies was Eleanor McLennan. Etta Theile and gave the invocation. Ethel Fowden led the pledge of allegiance.

Installation was by Loretta Stasch, president of Bay Valley District.

New officers are: President,

Gayle Lea, vice president elect, Etta Theile; vice president, Bernie Ferreira; recording secretary, Jerry Nicklas; corresponding secretary, Betty Hampton; treasurer, Eleanor McLennan; auditor, Lillian Fitzpatrick; parliamentarian, Alice Cook.

The affair was closed with the Collect, read by Bernie Ferreira.

School for Retarded to Hold Open House Sunday

The Las Trampas School for Mentally Retarded will hold an open house from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The board of directors and the Lits, auxiliary for the school, are co-sponsoring the affair to introduce their new director, Mrs. Vic Rugh, and honor their recently retired head matron, Mrs. Emma Bailey.

The public is invited to inspect the facilities, meet the students, staff members, board members and ladies of the auxiliary. Information booths will be set up and questions regarding school policy as well as the functions of the board and auxiliary, will be answered.

The school is located on Railroad Street, in the heart of Lafayette. It is non-profit, residential school for retarded youngsters and adults.

Tuition is kept at a bare minimum, to cover operating expenses only. Local civic and fraternal organizations are encouraged to assist in various ways with the program.

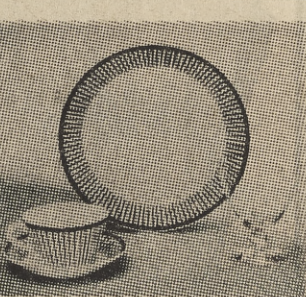

In the wake of the recent expose of Stagg Manor School, Danville, Las Trampas School stands eager to display the extreme opposite type of school for retarded people.

Each member of the staff is dedicated to his or her work, and devoted to the children, according to Mrs. Rugh. There are no locked doors, fencing or severe punishments, nor are they necessary in the happy climate of this remarkable home.

"The free, joyous activity of the children is apparent to a visitor arriving unannounced at any time," she said. "The general policy is that of a firm but loving hand, with the guidance and discipline of each, directed by the needs and limitations of that particular individual."

Mrs. Rugh, the new director, comes to the school with over 15 years of special interest in and work with the mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children. In addition to a degree in teaching, she has had additional training at the Menninger Clinic, world renowned for its progressive methods in the field of mental hygiene.

Sigma Kappa Stewardess' Kapers Set Club Elects New Officers

The first game between the New York Mets and the San Francisco Giants in Candlestick Park tomorrow will highlight this year's "Sigma Kappa Kapers," the annual brunch and baseball benefit sponsored by the Bay Area Alumnae Council of Sigma Kappa.

As in past years, the Laguna Honda Home, San Francisco, will receive all proceeds from the benefit.

Alumnae members of the sorority, their husbands and friends will again gather at the Hilton Inn at the San Francisco International Airport for a pre-game champagne brunch. It will be served from 10 a.m. until game time.

Following the game, many will be entertaining at cocktail parties and dinners.

Mrs. Edwin Duncan of San Francisco is general chairman of the benefit. Among those assisting Mrs. Duncan will be Mrs. Donald E. Foster, Danville, publicity.

For further information, call the president of the local alumnae chapter, Mrs. H. G. Noack, Lafayette, 283-3706; Mrs. Lawrence Harper, Orinda, CL 4-5766.

Work in the field of gerontology is the principal national philanthropy of Sigma Kappa.

Locally, in addition to attending fund raising benefits, many alumnae members of the sorority are donating their time and service to working directly with the aged.

Mrs. McHale Is Chairman For Brunch

An al fresco brunch is planned by Cedar Jr. Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay for Sunday. Mrs. Edward E. McHale of Lafayette will be general chairman of the brunch, which will be in the gardens of the Rollo Wheeler home, 2 Glen Alpine, Piedmont.

Mrs. M. Sherman Eubanks of Lafayette and Mrs. Robert Ristenpart of Orinda will be among those serving on committees.

Dr. and Mrs. John K. Hansen will be among the guests.

Mrs. Goodbread

Mrs. Paul Goodbread, 3 Warford Terrace, Orinda, is the newly appointed member of the board of directors of the Berkeley Women's City Club.

At a recent meeting of the Oakland Chapter of Clipped Wings, an election of officers for the coming year was held.

The new officers will be installed at a luncheon May 26 at the International Inn, for all Bay Area chapters.

New officers for the coming year are president, Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick, Lafayette; vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Lahey, Lafayette; recording secretary, Mrs. Terry Haws, Lafayette; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Alton Bendetto, Concord, and treasurer, Mrs. Paul Poppe, Concord.

Arrangements are in the offing for Mrs. Richard Deibert, current president, to attend the Annual Clipped Wings national convention in July in Chicago, Ill.

A Bridge Marathon is being successfully completed as the main fund raising activity of the year. Final scores are being tabulated and many exciting prizes are in store for winners.

They will be awarded at the home of Mrs. Joseph Lahey.

The popular marathon will be repeated again next year with Mrs. Joseph Lahey in charge of arrangements. All proceeds go to the Contra Costa Council for Retarded Children.

Any former United Air Lines stewardess interested in further information about Clipped Wings may call membership chairman, Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick, Lafayette, 283-2647.

Architectural League Holds Garden Tour

The Women's Architectural League of the East Bay featured a garden tour in the Danville-Walnut Creek area as their program. Gardens shown were: William P. Deaton, 10 Macomber Way; Lloyd Brad-hoff, 6 Macomber Way; Russell Schumacher, 16 Macomber Way; Melvin W. Young, 101 Montair Drive; Gordon H. Ball, 300 Camille Ave., and Philip Bancroft, 1500 Bancroft Road.

Osmundson and Staley, and Robert Babcock are the landscape architects represented. Two of the gardens are old estates, featuring large oaks and pools.

The league plans a dinner-dance June 8 at the Sequoyah Country Club.

Cocktails Aux Deux

Sidewalk cafes of Gay Paree will draw more than 600 persons to the Gordon Ball estate at 300 Camille Avenue, Alamo, when Jasmine Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay entertains at its second annual "Cocktails Aux Deux" tomorrow.

The Ball gardens will be transformed into a Parisian street scene by huge red and white awnings over the lanai and red and white topiary trees surrounding the pool.

Double Talk Members Plan To Meet Wed.

A home meeting is scheduled Wednesday night for members of Double Talk Chapter, Mothers of Twins Club.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Kasper, 2940 Del Hombre Lane, Walnut Creek. It will be called to order by the president, Mrs. S. F. Havey, Jr., at 8 p.m.

Final arrangements will be made for the annual May dance, which will be held on May 26 at Paul's of Martinez. The theme of this year's dance will be "Stardust Twist."

Members planning to attend the meeting should call Mrs. R. H. Bambach, YE 5-3748, or Mrs. Fred Janes, YE 4-1458, by Monday.

Epilepsy League Meets Tomorrow

Dr. Harry Howard of Walnut Creek spoke on the epilepsy project at last month's meeting of the Alameda-Contra Costa County Epilepsy League.

This month's meeting promises to be just as interesting, according to Mrs. G. S. Welch, vice president, Orinda.

Lawrence Mowery of Berkeley will give a talk and demonstration of the electroencephalogram. The meeting will be tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Sky Room at Herrick Memorial Hospital, Berkeley.

The public, as always, is invited and refreshments will be served.

Thomas Henze of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Robert Eschwig of Lafayette.

Mrs. Leon Schneider of Danville is chairman of this year's party which will be in progress from 5 until 8 p.m. with dancing between 5 and 7 p.m.

Early reservations have been received from Messrs. and Mmes. W. P. Strycker, De Young Vasse, James Boghosian, Charles Legge, Michael Dakis, Jack Peabody, Donald Mitchell, Walt Horning and Lewis Chiodo of Orinda.

The Alamo contingent will include Drs. and Mmes. H. P. Packard, Byron Zaharias and John Sibley, and Messrs. and Mmes. John Brose, James Voorhees and James Hammeral. In the Lafayette group will be Drs. and Mmes. George Thomas and William Sheeran and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fulton.

Arriving from nearby Walnut Creek will be Messrs. and Mmes. Burton Mason, D. R. Davidson, Ray Yonce and Milton Wald.

Double Talk Chapter to Give Dance Tomorrow

Members of Double Talk Chapter, Mothers of Twins Club, are practicing the latest dance steps in preparation for their annual May Dance. The theme of this year's dance is "Stardust Twist."

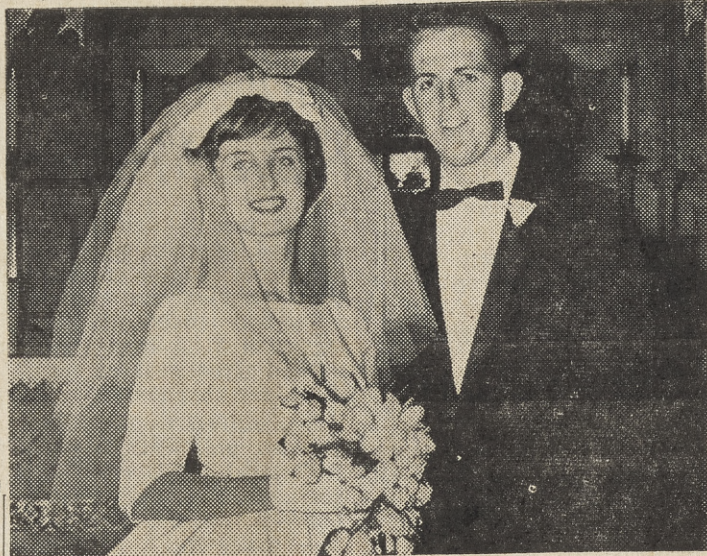

According to Mr. S. F. Havey, Jr., president of the Walnut Creek chapter, "This eagerly awaited event will take place tomorrow at Paul's of Martinez. Festivities will begin at 8 p.m. with dinner, followed by dancing for members, their husbands and guests."

'Artist Looks at Peace' to Be Theme

"The Artist Looks at Peace" is the theme of an art show to be exhibited June 2 to 5 at St. Mary's College in Moraga sponsored by the Diablo Women's Peace Council.

In sponsoring this show the Diablo Women's Peace Council hopes to bring to the attention of the community outstanding examples of how our leading artists are expressing their awareness of values in a peaceful society.

Jerilynn Ann Ganiats Is Beautiful Orinda Bride

The former Jerilynn Ann Ganiats became Mrs. Geoffrey Howard Gee at a lovely formal ceremony at Santa Maria Catholic Church, Orinda, recently. Father Daniel E. Cardelli united Jerilynn and Geoff in marriage.

The beautiful brunette bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Ganiats of San Jose. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ida Ganiats of Overhill Road, Orinda. Jerilynn lived with her grandmother.

Jerilynn's gown was of poise with three-quarter sleeves and a scoop neck. It was full length with a train. Her veil was elbow length held by a silk Dior bow. Her flowers were white tulips and roses.

Katherine McQuaid was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Albright and the Misses Noel Jones, Vicki McCosker and Geraldine Graham. Athene Marie Mason was flower girl.

The attendants wore shrimp colored silk chiffon dresses. Their chapeaux were of shrimp colored Dior bows. They carried white tulips.

Best man was Whitney Gee. Ushers were Roland Lasher, Stephen Ullsh, Ronald Ganiats and Frank Beal. Junior usher was Gregory Gee.

A graduate of Miramonte, Jerilynn was a Chi Omega at the University of California, Berkeley.

Geoff is a Theta Delta Chi fraternity at U.C. He will graduate in June. Jerilynn wore an aqua blue and green print dress with matching coat and accessories when the newlyweds left for their honeymoon at a private guest house in Morgan Hill.

Dulings Enjoying Seven-Week European Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Orten E. Duling of 786 Los Palos Manor, Lafayette, are enjoying a seven-week tour of Europe.

The couple enplaned recently for London, England. From there, they will visit Paris, Lisbon, Madrid, Barcelona, Nice, Rome, Naples, Florence, Venice, Munich, Amsterdam, Berlin, Stockholm, Oslo and points of interest in Switzerland.

Active in PTA, the Dulings are incoming presidents of the Burton School Parent-Teacher Association. While the Dulings are touring Europe, Mrs. A. O. Anderson, Mrs. Duling's mother is caring for the couple's four children.

Katherine, 10; Jane, 8, and Tommy, 6, are students at Burton School. Their youngest is John, 3.

Duling, chief engineer of Calaveras Cement, San Francisco, is a member of the board of directors of Lafayette Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Kate & Advocate Ball

Local lawyers and their wives will turn out for the seventh annual Kate and Advocate Ball tomorrow at Sequoyah Country Club, as the highlight of an eventful social season.

Theme of the ball is "A Knight in Court." Co-chairmen for the black tie dance are Mrs. Wallace Colthurst and Mrs. William Coit. A social hour at 7 p.m. will precede the 9 o'clock dinner. Then, dancing will be enjoyed to the music of Jack Reed's orchestra.

Mrs. John B. Brethour was in charge of mailing clever parchment invitations to members of the legal profession throughout Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Old English lettering proclaimed the dance to be for the benefit of the Legal Aid Society, the philanthropy of the lawyer's wives.

The decorations committee, with Mrs. Thomas H. Rothwell as chairman, has been hard at work for many weeks converting yards of material into banners, flags and shields to give the dining room, ballroom and foyer a true medieval atmosphere. Among those working on this project have been Mmes. Perry Bardellini, Nathan Gray, Orinda, and Edward Merrill, Alamo.

The tables will be decorated with lighted miniature castles topped with tiny colored flags. Coat of arms featuring chevrons, crosses, eagles, lions, fleur-de-lis and a replica of the standard of both Lord Byron and Shakespeare have been copied in all the brilliant hues of gold, green, red and blue associated with heraldry.

Wall scenes will be decorated with three of these small flags and purple streamers finished with gold tassels. Banners of various sizes and designs will hang from hand hewed beams, while brilliant shields will cover the walls.

Mrs. Carson To Install For Juniors

Mrs. Donald Carson, Mt. Diablo district past president, junior membership, California Federation of Women's Clubs, installed new officers of the Junior Women's Club of Walnut Creek in an evening ceremony recently at the women's clubhouse, Lincoln avenue.

During the rites, Mrs. Carson presented each officer with a "Golden Treasure" representing their time, energy and talents, which they in turn were asked to place in a treasure chest.

This chest was presented to Mrs. John Rousset, incoming president.

Other new officers are: Mrs. Leslie Johnson, first vice president; Mrs. Ted Wilson, second vice president; Mrs. Glen Short, third vice president; Mrs. William Gilman, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Clausen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Joice, treasurer; Mrs. George Meikle, auditor, and Mrs. Harry Hemstall, parliamentarian.

Mrs. James Bailey and Mrs. Melvin Sory of the senior group will serve as coordinators to the juniors.

Neophytes initiated are the Mesdames Robert Scofield, William Henley and S. Dennis Fitchow.

Graduation ceremonies were held for Mrs. Robert Shanck.

First place in the Build-A-Better-Community of the Mt. Diablo district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, junior membership, was presented to the club recently at the Mt. Diablo district convention.

Members are planning to attend state convention to be held at the Jack Tar Hotel, San Francisco, this weekend. Delegates to the convention are Mrs. John Rousset and Mrs. Albert Taylor.

Many Changes Recommended For Plan Body

A six months' study by a joint committee representing the Home Builders Association, the Contra Costa County Realty Board, the Planning Commission and the Planning Director's Office, brought forth recommendations for changes and improvements in county planning operations in a report made public this week.

Suggested changes included these signed by George S. Tandy, chairman:

1. More frequent turnover of commission members; limit each planning commissioner to one four-year term of office.
2. Continue rotating chairmanship of the planning commission.
3. The board of supervisors to consider the nominations of builders, architects, civil engineers or other qualified laymen for appointments on the planning commission.
4. Abolish night meetings of the planning commission except in emergencies.
5. Planning commission members to hold field trips prior to public hearings.

6. The staff of the planning department to be given authority to issue minor permits rather than putting all permit applications on the planning commission agenda, however, with the right of appeal by any or all interested parties.

Hits and Errors...

3000 Youngsters Play Baseball in Our Area!

If you happen to think the various junior baseball programs and Little Leagues are small time, you had better take a second look.

Taken from the point of view of participation, and I think one and all will agree this is probably the most important factor, kid baseball can boast some surprising statistics.

As an example, did you realize that there are over 3000 youngsters participating in baseball programs in an area that includes Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Alamo and Danville?

That gives you something to think about doesn't it?

I guess it was inevitable, for the feminine touch finally manifested itself in the Walnut Creek Junior Baseball program. Last Sunday at the opening day ceremonies, the Davis Donut team was preceded on the field by three charming young cheerleaders armed with bright yellow pompons. Prepared to root their favorite ball players on to bigger and better things were Patty Haentjens, Christing Brumbach and Joan Fribly. Three living, breathing dolls!

Bob Baker, the Sylvan Road Slugger, celebrated his 12th birthday last weekend. Saturday, together with several of his buddies, he attended the Giant-Houston Colt game at Candlestick Park. Sunday found him playing a second base for the Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association entry in the International League. To cap the festivities, he clouted a triple to help in the WCYAA's winning effort.

While most leagues are in the organizational stages or have just started play, the Orinda Baseball League is approaching the halfway mark. Under the direction of the Orinda Union School District, 710 youngsters and 98 coaches started play May 16 and will wind up the season June 28. Frank Isola heads up the program, assisted by Hal Ruby serving as baseball commissioner.

The object of the early windup to the season is an attempt to eliminate any conflict with family vacation schedules.

The Lafayette Youth Association announces they have assigned 602 youngsters to teams as of this date. Currently, there are 38 teams being organized. However, the program is being hampered somewhat by the lack of sufficient sponsors. Any group or business establishment interested in sponsoring may obtain the necessary information by contacting Gordon McNulty, c/o Sports & Games in Walnut Creek.

Incidentally, while off the baseball theme, it will be great interest to Lafayette residents to know that the Lafayette Youth Association will again conduct their swim program. The proposed remodeling of the Acalanes swimming pool has been postponed, thus giving the swim program the green light. Sign-ups for the swimming instructions will be held May 26 at Acalanes High School.

Probably the proudest youngster at the festive Walnut Creek Baseball Opening Day ceremonies was young Don Loeser. Don, playing for the George Grube Insurance team in the Coast League last year, won a trophy sponsored by Paul Sedar of the A & W Root Beer for the youngster leading the league in homers.

Don won the title with a collection of six round trippers. After chafing through the fall and winter, Don had just about given up hope of ever receiving the elusive award. Young Loeser had to agree after the surprise presentation that the wait was worth it.

Rae Anders Of CP Wins Gym Title

In the Northern California High School Gymnastics Championships, held a week ago at College Park, Rae Anders of College Park performed brilliantly to capture first place in the trampoline, ousting two-time winner Bob Mora from Sequoia High School in Redwood City.

Anders bounced and twisted his way to a nearly perfect rating of 88.5, an outstanding effort on the part of a prep.

Scott Gardiner, also of College Park, placed fourth in the trampoline.

Other College Park entries were Ken Poff, who placed seventh in free exercise, and Dan Newcomb, who had a ninth place showing in the side horse.

The teams competing in the championships included nine teams from the East Bay, eight teams from the West Bay, and teams from Sacramento and area.

Las Lomas Is 4th In North Coast Swimming Meet

Las Lomas paced local entries in the annual North Coast Section swimming championships last weekend at Stanford, finishing eighth with 11 points.

There were no local winners. The Knights, Pleasant Hill and Miramonte were the only local schools to place in the finals. In the B competition, Miramonte finished fourth.

Bob Strand finished second in the 100-yard backstroke to top all the local entries.

Don Smith and Fritz VonTagen, both of Las Lomas, also placed in the finals.

SMITH PICKED up a sixth in the backstroke while VonTagen was fifth in the 50-yard freestyle.

Pleasant Hill's Paul Murphy finished second in the 100-yard freestyle.

The Rams' 200-yard freestyle relay team of Murphy, Glen Graham, John Malley and Peter Hall finished fourth.

Miramonte's Bob Kammyer finished third in the 100-yard butterfly to round out the local scoring.

The powerful southern division of the North Coast Section made a shambles of the meet, sweeping the first three places.

It was strictly no contest as Menlo-Atherton won with 56 points. Santa Clara finished second with Los Altos coming in third.

BERKELEY topped Division I with 14 points. The Yellowjackets had run off with the local division title a week ago, scoring 70 points to 40 for second place Las Lomas.

In the B competition, Bob Savage and Duke Gibbs paced the Mats to a fourth place finish behind winner Campbell.

Savage placed in the 200-yard freestyle and 100-yard individual medley, finishing second in the latter.

Gibbs placed in the 100-yard breaststroke and 100-yard individual medley, finishing second in the first event.

Mat Netmen North Coast Runnerups

Mike Saputo and the doubles team of Ron Hudson and Bob Martin from Miramonte were runnersup in the North Coast Section tennis championships held last weekend in Berkeley.

Saputo won the North Coast Section Division I title the previous week as did Hudson and Martin. The two singles finalists and two doubles finalists qualify for the North Coast tourney.

Saturday, Saputo defeated Westy Hoffman, the Southern Division's runnerup, 6-4, 6-2, to gain the finals.

Hudson and Martin defeated Craig Olson and Stan Cumming, the Southern Division runnerup from Carmel, 6-0, 6-1, to move into the championship match.

In the finals, George Todd from Cubberly High School in Palo Alto thumped Saputo, 6-2, 6-1, for the section title.

Hudson and Martin were defeated by Scott Schroder and Owen Lucey of Burlingame, 6-4, 6-3, in their match.

CLAUDIA LEHTO, 12, of Lafayette (above) will be one of the outstanding local entries in the AAU Junior Olympics sectional meet tomorrow and Sunday in Pleasant Hill. Shown going through her paces at the Sherman Swim School, Claudia will be a big favorite in the diving events for her age group. The Sherman School, Northern California low board diving champions last year, will be entering nine youngsters in this weekend's meet. Sun photo by Bob Yost

Acalanes Is Tied But Stays Atop FAL Golf Race

Acalanes was slowed in its quest for the Foothill League golf title Tuesday afternoon as Las Lomas held the Dons to a 4 1/2-4 1/2 deadlock.

The Dons, still undefeated, are now 7-0-1. Las Lomas is now 3-4-2.

In another league match Monday, Piedmont (4-4-1) took over third place by defeating Del Valle (0-9), 7-2.

The scheduled matches between San Ramon (5-2) and Miramonte (4-4) will be played at a later date.

Last Thursday Acalanes defeated Miramonte, last year's champion, 7-2, at Round Hill Country Club.

Jim Roessler of Las Lomas was the day's medalist with a 36. He defeated Gary Childs (40) for the point.

MIKE McNEVIN was the medalist for Acalanes with a 39. He defeated Mike Williamson (41).

Another winner for Las Lomas was Ted Roessler who shot a 42 to defeat Art Shierry. Larry Wolf of Acalanes and Mike Koefler deadlocked at 41s, but Wolf was the winner of the point.

John Mount (42) of Acalanes won his team's third individual point while Denny Young (46) of Las Lomas did the same for the Knights.

Acalanes won the first best ball match, Las Lomas the second, but the deciding best ball match was split by the third foursome.

Local Girls Sweep Stunt Swim Meet

Local girls swept all five first places in an Age Group Stunt meet for synchronized swimmers held at the Athens Athletic Club recently.

Four second places and two thirds also went to local girls. Seven clubs and 38 girls were entered in the meet.

Kriss Welshons of Danville, swimming for the host Athens Club, was the winner in the 10 and under classification. Gail Gardner, Pleasant Hill, of the Aquadevils finished second.

In the 11-12 age group, Debbie Howell of the Howell School in Danville was the winner. Dace Ohlson also of Howell, was second and Martha Hicks of Danville, of the Aquadevils was third.

DOROTHEA Sollenberger of Walnut Creek was the winner in the 13-14 class. She swims for the newly formed Aquadevils. Finishing second in this age group was Melinda Sellers, Pleasant Hill, also of the Aquadevils. Another Aquadevil, Yvonne Henry of Pleasant Hill, was third.

Linda McFadden, Walnut Creek, of the Athens Club, won the 15-16 competition. Sharon Jolly, Pleasant Hill, of the Aquadevils was second.

Judy McFadden of Walnut Creek won the 17 and under

Oxley Blanks Mt. Diablo As Rams Even CCD Mark

They wrapped up the 1962 baseball season in the Contra Costa Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League last Thursday with Pleasant Hill finishing its season in fine style.

After a horrible start, the Rams ended the season with a 6-6 record and they did it by whitewashing league champ Mt. Diablo, 3-0, behind Al Oxley's four-hit pitching.

The red-faced Red Devils therefore can claim a league title, but can't claim a win over the Rams who dumped them the first time around when they were undefeated.

In fact, the Devils lost two games all year and tied another—with Pleasant Hill taking the bows for both defeats.

CONTRA COSTA DIVISION Final

	W	L	T	GB
Mt. Diablo	9	2	1	—
Clayton Valley	8	4	0	1 1/2
Pittsburg	7	5	0	2 1/2
Antioch	6	5	1	3
Pleasant Hill	6	6	0	3 1/2
College Park	3	9	0	6 1/2
Pacifica	2	10	0	7 1/2

Oxley struck out five as he continued his fine pitching which was mainly responsible for the Rams' late surge.

In the hitting department, Dave Clark had two of the Rams' five hits.

IN ANOTHER league game last Thursday, Val Snow of Clayton Valley tossed the CCD's first no-hitter of the season at Antioch, 2-1.

Antioch scored first on a walk, a pair of stolen bases and an error in the top of the sixth. Jim Koch's two-run triple in the bottom of the sixth saved Snow and gave the Eagles the win and a second place finish.

Snow struckout nine and walked eight.

With the Antioch loss, Pittsburg claimed third place with a 5-0, blanking of tailender Pacifica as Jerry Sandoval pitched a six-hitter and struck out seven.

Mrs. Calder Is Winner of OCC Spring Tourney

Mrs. G. B. Calder fired an 86-13-73 for the low net round and won first flight honors in the Orinda Country Club spring handicap tournament for women recently.

Mrs. J. G. Bannister was the runnerup in the top flight. In the second flight, Mrs. J. P. Van Gelder was the winner with Mrs. A. A. Knudsen finishing second.

Mrs. J. L. Sharp was the third flight winner with Mrs. C. E. Little placing second.

Winner in the fourth flight was Mrs. C. Eastwood. Mrs. F. F. Fee was second.

Fifth flight honors went to Mrs. Robert Merriam. Mrs. C. Rasmussen settled for second place.

Mrs. A. J. McGlynn took top honors in the sixth flight as Mrs. E. W. Fallentine grabbed the second spot.

Defeated winners in the flights were Mrs. William L. Calhoun, first flight; Mrs. D. L. Kelley, second; Mrs. J. Scammell, third; Mrs. E. B. Payne, fourth; Mrs. T. N. Taylor, fifth, and Mrs. J. H. Tiedemann, sixth.

Foothill Baseball Teams in Final Week

THAT LAST BIT of effort by Dave Dunning (right) of Miramonte gives him the nod at the tape in the half-mile feature of last Friday's North Coast Section Division I meet at Miramonte. In this excellent

Dunning Does It Again

Miramonte's Dave Dunning was the only local winner in the North Coast Section Division I meet last Friday afternoon in Orinda, as he continued to set records in the half-mile event. Competing against the five best 880 men from five East Bay leagues, Dunning turned in his fastest time of the year—a Four meet records were broken and another tied in the North Coast Section Division I meet at Miramonte last Friday.

220—Charles Booth (El Cerrito) 21.6 (tied record).

880—Dave Dunning (Miramonte) 1:56.0 (old record 1:57.5).

Shot put—Jim O'Brien (DeAnza) 42.14 (4:23.5).

Shot put—Jim O'Brien (DeAnza) 6-1 (60-7).

Discus—Bob Akers (El Cerrito) 171-6 (169-10).

Pole vault—Skip Hempler (DeAnza) 13-4 1/4 (13-0).

1:56.0—to nip Willie Green of Encinal who had the best time this year of all runners entered.

Green's top time of 1:55.6 probably would have been broken in last week's division meet except for a strong headwind that hampered all events.

Powerful El Cerrito walked off with the division title scoring 65 1/2 points. Piedmont, Miramonte and Las Lomas finished sixth, seventh and eighth respectively. Piedmont was the winner of the Foothill League dual meet title. Las Lomas finished second while Miramonte tied for fourth.

DUNNING'S stretch drive which gave him the win, also enabled him to clip 1 1/2 seconds off the four-year-old record. Green was timed in the same 1:56.0 with the first four finishers breaking the old record.

Dick McCoy of Las Lomas picked up a pair of thirds in the dashes and qualified for the North Coast Section meet. Chuck Bray of Pleasant Hill and Bill Staley of Las Lomas qualified in the shot put.

Dick Gentry of Pleasant Hill was third in the 440 while Larry Gable had a fifth in the 220 to round out the local boys who will compete in the North Coast Section meet at Stanford tomorrow against the other two divisions. Greg Ford (Clayton Valley),

Las Lomas Needs Help to Catch Leading Acalanes

Once-defeated Acalanes erased a blemish from its record Tuesday and moved even closer to the Foothill League baseball title by defeating Miramonte, 2-0. The game was a replay of a 6-6 tie between the two teams.

With three games to play, the Dons are 8-1. Second place Las Lomas is 6-3.

Acalanes would have to lose all its final three games and the Knights would have to win its three games in order to unseat the Dons.

That's the way things stood yesterday afternoon prior to the scheduled action on FAL diamonds.

Yesterday, the Dons were scheduled to host tough San Ramon. The Wolves are currently in fourth place in the league standings.

Hoping to stay in the race, Las Lomas was to meet Alhambra at Walnut Creek.

THE BULLDOGS, edged by Acalanes, 4-3, in a crucial game last week, couldn't come up for a game with Del Valle last Thursday and bowed, 9-6, and fell by the wayside.

But Piedmont scored three times in the third and after Acalanes added two runs in the fifth routed started Bob Strain and a reliever before Brian Allen put out the blaze.

The Dons then clung to their two-run margin behind Allen in the last two innings. The Highlanders outthrew the Dons, 10-8, but hampered their cause with nine errors.

Piedmont committed five errors in the nine-run first inning enjoyed by the Dons.

BOB GILLHAM and Peter Schneider each had two hits and drove home two runs each for the Dons.

Alhambra dropped its second game in three days last Thursday, losing to Del Valle 9-6, and was eliminated from the race for the title they won last year.

The Trojans came from behind with three runs in the sixth and two in the seventh to win their third game of the year.

It was the "senior-less" Trojans' second win over the "big guys"—Miramonte was their first victim with Piedmont providing the third win.

Versatile Bill O'Toole had four of the 11 hits for the winners. He drove home two runs. Dan Ready had three more hits for Del Valle.

And the defending champs would like nothing better than to make things rough on "still alive" Las Lomas.

Miramonte, 6-4, with a mathematical chance to tie for first only, was not scheduled to play yesterday.

In the other game set for yesterday, Del Valle was to meet hapless Piedmont.

In the final week of play, Acalanes faces Miramonte on Tuesday in Orinda and then visits Del Valle.

LAS LOMAS hosts Piedmont Tuesday and San Ramon in Walnut Creek Thursday.

The other Tuesday game finds Del Valle at San Ramon.

The other Thursday game is Miramonte at Alhambra.

Behind Brian Allen's four-hit pitching, Acalanes defeated Miramonte in a replay of a 6-6 tie game April 26.

Allen pitched near-flawless ball, striking out six and never giving up more than one hit per inning. Bruce Nickerson was his only problem. He got three singles for the Mats.

A single by Peter Schneider and a double by John Paul Jones gave the Dons all the runs they needed in the first inning.

However, a single by Rick Underwood, a fielder's choice and a single by Dave DeVarona gave the Dons an insurance tally in the sixth.

The win was the eighth in nine games for the Dons and gives them a two-game lead over Las Lomas with three games to play. The Mats are now 6-4.

Miramonte shook off the effects of a mid-season slump and defeated San Ramon 4-0 last Thursday behind Steve Thaman's fine one-hitter. The win enabled Miramonte to take over the third spot and shove the Wolves down to fourth.

Thaman, sophomore, allowed only a single by Rich Smith and was never seriously threatened after the Mats scored twice in the first inning and added another in the second. Don Collor, who has a no-hitter to his credit

AB 1000 Protest Sent by Moraga School District

The Moraga School Board recently sent out a letter of protest to AB 1000, a bill which drastically reduced the so-called growth increment of the state aid program for many school districts. It particularly had an adverse effect on the budget for the Moraga School District, according to Superintendent William Knight.

Copies of the letter went to the following: Legislators, Senator George Miller, and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie; the Orinda and Lafayette Schools; Moraga Valley Community Club; Moraga Parent's Club; Board of Supervisors, Contra Costa County; Superintendent of Schools, and presidents of neighboring school boards.

THE LETTER said in part: "AB 1000 drastically reduced the increment for increase during the current year for many districts. The result is catastrophic to small districts like Moraga which have problems of rapid growth ranging from 30-

"THIS PAST year we planned our budget for the year 1961-62 on the assumption that it would continue. We included a figure of growth increment in the amount of $19,700 for an increase of approximately 120 children. Our current enrollment is about the same as that estimate. After our budget was complete and submitted to the county for adoption, the legislature enacted AB 1000 which drastically reduced the growth increment which we will receive this year.

"THE MONEY we budgeted will have to be raised somewhere. Our only alternative is to pass it on to the local taxpayers next year. The result will be to increase their tax rate 20 cents per $100 in 1962-63 to pay the 1961-62 deficiency, and 10 cents per $100 in 1963-64 to pay the 1962-63 deficiency.

This will amount on the basis of present estimates to about 15 per cent of the 1961-62 tax rate. Of course, we will attempt to reduce the impact of these changes by whatever economies we discover to be practicable.

"We are hopeful that all concerned will understand that the increase in taxes was caused by the passing of AB 1000 in 1961.

"Prior to reducing our educational services the board is making every effort to make the facts known and to endeavor to secure corrective legislation."

Louis Francis Amendment Hit By Association

Contra Costa College Faculty Association members voted at a recent meeting to oppose the Louis Francis amendment as unconstitutional and violative of the traditional and fundamental processes of American justice.

Backing the stand taken by the California Teachers Association, the faculty organization urged that its members and all citizens who believe in the U.S. Constitution refuse to sign the petitions being circulated to qualify the Francis amendment for the 1962 ballot.

Individuals or groups who have signed or endorsed the petitions without understanding the sinister implications of their contents are urged to withdraw their sponsorship or endorsement.

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin the English drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, wouldn't think of it! They know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance at a milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER

"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin is to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof mildness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS

Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS

It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6-, 7-, even 8-to-1. As a result the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 76.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS

When you mix a tall drink, like a Collins or a gin 'n tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin "to taste." You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to drown it to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE DRY MARTINIS MAKE MORE SENSE

Using Standard 36 Proof Dry Vermouth	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (or Vodka)
3 — to — 1 (Traditional)	76.5 Proof	69.0 Proof
5 — to — 1 (Dry)	81.0 Proof	72.6 Proof
8 — to — 1 (Extra Dry)	84.0 Proof	75.1 Proof

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a moderate 67.5 proof!)

OLD MR. BOSTON IS THE FINEST GIN YOU CAN BUY

It's vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature, is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It is America's first and largest-selling 80 proof Dry Gin!

Never Late for Roses

Roses are full of bloom right now, and the gardener who failed to plant them during bare root season is apt to regret it.

But there's no reason he should, for roses transplant easily from containers. And a check with the California Association of Nurserymen would indicate that an exceptionally good selection of container roses is available this year.

You have the distinct advantage, when buying roses in May and June, of choosing them when they're in leaf and bloom. This is especially appealing to novice gardeners, since most of them have trouble seeing how those "bundles of sticks" which roses seem to be during bare root season will ever become things of beauty. The transformation has now taken place, however, and a peek at your local nurseryman's rose show will prove it.

IF YOU ARE name conscious, the name roses you'll most likely look for are the four All America Rose Selections for 1962. These four, incidentally, give you a good cross section of the three main rose types—two are hybrid teas, one is a grandiflora and one a floribunda. The hybrid teas are Christian Dior, a red rose, and King's Ransom, a chrome yellow beauty. The grandiflora is John S. Armstrong, another vivid red, and the floribunda is Golden Slipper, as the name implies, a rich yellow-orange.

Names need not influence your choice, however, for as mentioned above, roses are in bloom and may be selected on their obvious merits. This is just another way of saying that your choice of container roses is not guided by the publicity given certain varieties at the expense of other good ones, old and new. Nothing but a rose's individual charm and beauty need be taken into consideration.

WHAT SHOULD be taken into consideration after this is how roses can best do the job for you. Over and above their use as specimen shrubs, you might consider them for an informal flowering hedge. In this case, the compact and floriferous floribundas are the best choice. You might like a bank of roses against a sunny wall, in which case the grandifloras are unsurpassable. You might seek beauty in the individual bloom, in which case the hybrid teas offer you the widest selection and the most perfectly shaped buds. Or you might consider lining a walk with the formal beauty of standard or tree roses. There's another use for floribunda roses, too, namely keeping them in the container for display on a deck, patio or terrace. The many months of color which floribunda roses give you is unmatched by any other shrub which you can use this way. You can keep them in the five-gallon nursery containers as a temporary expedient, but a more permanent planter box is much more appealing.

As most of us know, roses are happiest in the sun—at least half a day of this particular ingredient being necessary for the best results. They need regular watering by irrigation and should be fed at least once every month from now through September. Most nurserymen have their own pet formulas for feeding roses, and all of them seem to work. If you follow the recommendations of your local CAN member you won't go wrong.

OCCASIONAL spraying is desirable to ward off aphids and other pests, which seem to like roses as well as we do. Spraying also controls powdery mildew, which bothers some varieties more than others. Choose a windless day to spray and soak the bush thoroughly, hitting both the tops and undersides of leaves and the cane right down to ground level. There are sprays of varying strength and effectiveness on the market, but whichever you use, be sure to read the label directions first.

When you plant a container grown rose among others in your garden, you might notice that the new one looks healthier and happier than the rest. If such is the case, it merely reflects the better care which your CAN nurseryman has taken of the bush.

Thank Heavens for Little Daisies!

California gardeners have much to be thankful for. We should stop now and then to give special thanks to geraniums and marguerites. The only thing that can keep these no-strain perennials from giving you summer-long bloom is your own failure to plant them. So be warned.

Actually, while we think of marguerites and geraniums as summer blooming they are more nearly over-blooming than not. The peak of their effectiveness comes in the summer months, but you can count on their color EXPERIENCED gardeners rely heavily on these two plant species for bloom, and inexperienced gardeners should lean on them more heavily for the ease with which they grow. Geraniums and marguerites are truly for the lazy man, being indifferent to soil and thriving in heat with a minimum of attention. You can use them in the ground to brighten a border, in tubs to live an outdoor living area or, in the case of geraniums, in pots for portable color.

While we lump the two to-

THIRD SECTION

ORINDA SUN

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1962

gether, they are actually nothing alike. Nor are they specially well suited to growing beside each other. Each in its own place is a brilliant performer that needs subdued companionship for the best effect.

ALTHOUGH often called "daisies" because of the daisy-like blooms, marguerites are a member of the chrysanthemum family. The most common variety seen is the familiar yellow bloomer, but white and pink marguerites are also widely grown, according to the California Association of Nurserymen. In general, the gardener makes a mistake in letting marguerites grow without restraint. They are much healthier and more compact when pinched back from time to time during the boom season.

Perennials for Summer

Summer-blooming perennials deserve a better break than they get from most California gardeners. They may not provide the same "riot of color" which annuals are capable of, but individually, they more than hold their own, and when used for spot color to round out a border, perennials can be mightily appealing.

We know of few annuals, for instance, with the individual beauty of a Transvaal daisy. The aristocratic bearing and lovely pastel colors of this African import make it a featured plant in any garden. California Association of Nurserymen members offer Transvaal daisies in gallon cans, and the plants should be set no deeper than you find them in the can. They must have perfect drainage to thrive.

DAY LILIES are usually overlooked by the gardener who seeks easy color. They require no cultural effort, yet day lilies will give you many weeks of bloom. Plant them on the edge of a lawn, where normal watering reaches them, and start enjoying their warm, vibrant colors.

Shasta daisies should be in every California garden, not only as a tribute to Luther Burbank, who developed them, but for their rugged good looks under all manner of conditions. Shasta daisies literally thrive on neglect, but they bloom longer and more profusely with water and regular cutting.

There are many such perennials for Northern Californians to try. Tall garden phlox, with its gorgeous heads of bloom in many colors, are show pieces when given the sun and water they need.

JAPANESE anemones, those tall windflowers of old-fashioned gardens, will highlight the rear of a semi-shaded border in late summer and fall. Hybrid gazanias, lush improvements on the old parking strip daisy, provide a rich and sun-loving cover for a problem embankment.

All of these are available in local CAN nurseries as well as established transplants, and they may be moved into the garden at this late date for color this summer. When you're shopping for them, you might come across a dozen other possibilities. At least that many more are deserving of space in your garden.

Walnut Queen Being Sought For Festival

Members of the 1962 Walnut Festival Queen Committee are looking for a girl who would like to reign as queen of the 25th annual Walnut Festival, and be the recipient of several royal prizes.

Bill McLaughlin, queen committee chairman, announced today that entry blanks are now being accepted for the queen contest.

An invitation to participate in the excitement of the contest is extended to girls between the ages of 17 and 22 who are residents of Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Pleasant Hill, Danville and Alamo general areas.

Judging will be based on ticket sales, beauty, personality and poise, and the contest will include a beauty pageant and formal coronation.

Other valuable prizes await four princesses who will reign with the queen over the Silver Anniversary Walnut Festival on September 20-23.

Mother and Baby Care Classes to Begin on June 5

Mrs. Leland E. Noll of Walnut Creek, chairman of nursing services for the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American National Red Cross, announced the next "Mother and Baby Care" classes would start June 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter House, 2121 Ygnacio Valley Road. They will continue on June 7, 12, 14, 19 and 21. Husbands and wives are urged to sign up for these classes.

Four films will be shown, "The Birth of a Baby," "Reading a Thermometer," and two new films, "From Generation to Generation," and "Feeding Time Is a Happy Time," will be most educational. A doctor will attend one class and lecture on the various kinds of anesthesia.

The course will also cover all baby skills such as bathing, feeding, changing, and anticipation and care for illness. Selection of the layette for baby and dietary musts will round out this very comprehensive six evenings of mother and baby care.

Sidney Hillyer Wins $1000 in B of A Contest

Sidney Hillyer of Lafayette, a senior at Acalanes High School was one of four Bay Area students to receive a $1000 Bank of America achievement award in the competition held in Berkeley last week.

There were two $150 winners from the area. Carol Boeck of Alamo from San Ramon Valley Union High School, and Charlotte Annis a Lafayette student also attending Acalanes High School, were the recipients.

Diablo Valley Choral to Hold Anniversary Sing

The Diablo Valley Choral will celebrate its 20th anniversary by presenting a special concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. This year the concert is being featured by the Pageant of Arts, to be held at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

Since this will be an occasion for remembering, the group has chosen some of its best loved selections as well as favorites of previous audiences, over the past years.

A varied program has been planned to include secular, romantic and modern compositions. The "finale" will consist of songs of the "Gay Nineties" era, which should afford much pleasure for both guests and performers.

THE CONCERT will be presented under the direction of Nico Snel, noted Walnut Creek musician. Mrs. Alma Daniels

Educator Speaks

Keith E. Merrill will speak on behalf of the Office of Educational Relations, on the master plan for public higher education in California in the coming decade, at Parkmead Intermediate School PTA meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the all-purpose room.

The General Land Office and the Grazing Service were consolidated into the Bureau of Land Management on July 16, 1946.

of Lafayette is the accompanist. Mrs. G. H. Stratos, concert chairman, is being assisted in arrangements for this annual spring affair, by Mrs. G. O. Hartzell, in charge of staging; Mrs. Edward Shokal, costuming; Mrs. Philip Simmons, programming, and Mrs. Donald Grimes, public relations.

The choral group has two charter members who will be participating in the concert, Mrs. Allen Marsan and Mrs. Fred Dixon. Many of the women have been with the group as long as 12 and 15 years. Each year a few new singers are added to the roster.

The women meet weekly for a two hour session for the joy of singing. These rehearsals have proven to be most rewarding and are always well attended.

One member, Mrs. Einar Cas, travels from Oakland each week. Several ladies come in from Orinda, Concord, Danville and San Ramon. The balance is made up of singers from Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Lafayette and Alamo.

THE CHORAL continues to be an active, stimulating association. Each member shares a love for music and a talent for singing as a unit. Working together rehearsals are both satisfying and enriching for the singers.

The women anticipate the presentation of each concert and other performances during the year for the pleasure of other music lovers in the area.

Grand Jury Audit Group Makes Recommendations

Establishment of a supervisor of a central accounts receivable division of the auditor-controller's department was recommended by audit and finance committee of the County Grand Jury in its report released recently.

The committee also recommended the addition of a collection deputy in the probation department and the transfer of social service department accounts receivable to central accounts receivable section.

The report said that the auditor-controller, along with other county officers, had already established these methods of collecting and urged that these actions be "followed through and intensified."

A FLAT statement regarding the reasons for the lease-purchase plan for financing county buildings was given with no recommendation whether for or against the plan.

The report said that the "difficulty of obtaining a two-thirds majority vote of people in favor of general obligation bond issues and the fact that the county's expanding population requires additional facilities have led to the use of 'Lease-Purchase' method of acquiring buildings. "In effect the taxpayer has purchased county facilities without the privilege of approving or rejecting the issuance of general obligation bonds," it concluded.

OTHER recommendations of the committee included:

1. It appears advisable for the Grand Jury to continue the pattern established in past years in re-employing firms to conduct the annual audit of county offices and records on a cyclical basis, probably three years at a time, as done in the past.

2. That all financial transactions of all special districts within the county, including school districts, be included in future reviews of the audit and finance committee. Only those transactions which pass through the county auditor-controller and county treasurer's office are included at present.

The firm recommended by the committee and the entire Grand Jury to perform the annual audit was Ernest and Ernest, Oakland.

Clay Serrahn was chairman of Serving with him were R. Hardthe audit and finance committee. en Blevins.

Civil Liberties Union to Hold Open Meeting

An open meeting of the American Civil Liberties Union will be held tonight at 8 in Walnut Creek.

The Rev. Aron Gilmartin of the Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church, 40 Woodland Drive, is hosting the meeting.

The public is invited. There is no charge.

Sun classifieds appear in five papers for one bargain price.

Big Convention

Jehovah's Witnesses from Walnut Creek and 18 other East Bay and Contra Costa County congregations will assemble in convention this weekend at the Contra Costa County Fairgrounds in Antioch.

More than 100 from Walnut Creek will attend the semi-annual circuit convention sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

The purpose of the gathering will be to help each Witness fulfill his Christian responsibilities as a minister so that the need of Bible education in his community will be met more effectively.

Adventure Camps Will Be Held Again by 'Y'

Alan Lindsey, program secretary for the Mt. Diablo YMCA, announced that reservations are now being accepted for the very popular Adventure Camp, with any boy 12 to 14 years old eligible for the trip, June 18 to June 27, inclusive.

Transportation will be by YMCA truck. The cost is $47.50 and will include transportation, food, insurance, leadership supervision and cost of rides such as boat rentals, horseback riding, entrance fees, etc.

They will journey to the ghost town of Bodie (near Mono Lake) and on to Calaveras Big Trees, then for a tour of Mercer and Moaning Caves (near Calaveras) and return to Walnut Creek.

The purposes of this tour are: (1) To learn to appreciate and understand the natural world, (2) to build character through group participation in organized activity.

Entire Class of Pen Pals Writes Japanese School

Early in the school year Earl Allen, district art consultant, was contacted by Frank Pierce, executive secretary of the California Farm Bureau Federation, who had just returned from Japan.

Pierce had brought a packet of art materials from the Nishina Elementary School which depicted life in Japan. He asked if there would be a school in Walnut Creek that would like to exchange art and letters with this school.

Miss Virjean Parker, third grade teacher at Indian Valley School, and her class expressed a willingness and an interest in taking part in the exchange.

With much effort and interest on the teacher's and pupils' parts, a packet of art materials and many letters depicting life in the United States and in Walnut Creek were assembled.

The Chamber of Commerce aided this by providing materials with factual information on Walnut Creek.

Early in May, a packet of letters arrived from the Nishina Elementary School, written by the pupils. As these were written in Japanese, Miss Parker and the students were required to ask the community for help in their translation.

Mrs. Rowena Nakagawa of the Nara Gift Shop, Walnut Creek, met with third grade students at Indian Valley, translating one of the letters from Japan.

Several Japanese-Americans in the community, Mrs. George Toriyama of the Social Service Department in Martinez, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kobata of Concord, have also been aiding in the translation of this material. Also helping to line up a series of interpreters is Mrs. David Meikle, a parent in Miss Parker's class.

The packet of materials sent to the Nishina Elementary School, Sena, Shizuoka Prefecture, consisted of mounted art work, letters from students, a tape recording of our third graders singing songs they will sing on their weekend camping trip to the Calaveras Big Trees, and factual materials from the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce.

An outgrowth of this project is great interest from here, a desire to develop a "sister" school relationship with the Nishina School, and a continued exchange of materials and letters in the future.

Light Opera Company Is 'Happy'

Diablo Light Opera Company voted "The Most Happy Fella" to be the opening musical for its fourth season. At a regular meeting, the company made the Frank Loesser hit its choice to be performed in November of this year.

"The Most Happy Fella" was first presented at the Imperial Theater on Broadway on May 3, 1936, consequently the Walnut Creek area will have the opportunity of seeing a relatively recent Broadway musical within a few minutes from their homes.

James Schwartz will be the musical director while Rhoda Klitsner will handle the staging and the extensive choreography. The directors have announced musical as well as reading try-outs to be held during the last week of May.

Anyone interested may contact the Diablo Light Opera Company at its Post Office Box 1084, Walnut Creek.

Lucky Stores Show Big Gain

Sales $185 million higher than a decade ago were reported by Gerald A. Aves, president of Lucky Stores, Inc., 4041 Canyon Road, Lafayette.

This phenomenal growth in the space of 10 years has seen the western food chain increase from 36 stores in 1952 to a present total of 135 stores in California, Washington and Arizona.

In 1952, Lucky sales were $40,243,000. In 1962, sales are expected to top $225 million.

The modern forest conservation policy, that timber operations should be conducted under forestry principles, began in the Department of the Interior.

Ten Area Youths, Europe Bound' to Confer Sunday

Ten young persons from this area will be part of the 54 high school and college students holding a swim-dinner party in Orinda on Sunday preparatory to their departure June 17 on a tour of 16 European countries, including Russia.

The tour is being arranged by the Oakland YMCA and the Sunday event is being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Carl Roos, 42 Hacienda Circle, Orinda. Roos is assistant superintendent of schools for the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, and their son, Roger, 17, is a student at Miramonte High School and a member of the tour.

John B. Thune, general secretary of the Oakland YMCA, will be in charge of his organization's third annual international "Adventure" trip. He resides at 1035 Camino Pablo, Moraga.

The 10 young persons from Contra Costa County included on the 12-week journey are: Marion Bulin, 33 Via Aspero, Danville; Thomas W. Cline, 518 Miner Road, Orinda; Roy W. Dunlop, 747 Hamilton Drive, Pleasant Hill; Roos; David R. Sandberg, 4030 Los Arabis Road, Lafayette.

Also Brian J. Traynor, 29 Hacienda Circle, Orinda; George F. Wagner, 271 La Serena Avenue, Alamo; Ronald K. Yoder, 1641 Ridgewood Road, Alamo; Barbara Heisler, 2241 Hillside Court, Walnut Creek, and Thune's 19-year-old son, John S., a graduate of Miramonte High School and noted skier and mountain climber.

MISS HEISLER is a physical education teacher and dean's assistant at Clayton Valley High School in Concord.

The 54 young persons from the East Bay Area won't return to Oakland until September 4. In the European countries they will travel by rail, bicycle, plane, car and even on foot. In Geneva they will be guests of the World Alliance of YMCAs.

Thune said there is a possibility several members of the party will climb the famed Matterhorn in the Swiss Alps. In 1958 seven members of the YMCA "Adventure" tour made the ascent.

The air flights to and from Europe will be made via the Polar Route. The local young persons will spend at least four days in Moscow.

County School Boards Windup Year at Dinner

Contra Costa County School Boards Association ended this year with the annual dinner meeting Wednesday at Orinda and anticipated the year to come by electing 1962-63 officers.

Mrs. Phyllis Wainwright, member of the board of Martinez and Alhambra Union High School Districts, reported a slate of officers for the coming year, with David Snyder as the nominee for president.

Snyder is acting president of the association. He is a member of the board of Richmond Union High School District.

Dr. Theodore J. Kreps, professor of business economics at Stanford University, addressed the meeting on education as the nation's most vital investment.

Dr. Kreps has been associated with the Graduate School of Business at Stanford intermittently since 1930 and has served in high government positions for many years.

He has served such agencies as the National Recovery Administration, Works Progress Administration, and the Office of Price Administration, the U.S. Maritime Commission, the American delegate to the Conference of International Labor Office, the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice, and the Board of Economic Warfare.

Students from 13 Schools Honored

Superior achievement in the industrial arts has won plaques for students of 13 high schools of central and eastern Contra Costa County in the second year of an awards program of the Contra Costa Chapter, California Industrial Education Association.

Winning students are: James R. Minor, Liberty Union High School, Brentwood; Earl T. Bowes, John Swett Union High School, Crockett; Gary Augustino, Pittsburg High School; Ronald Schopke, Antioch High School; Edward Dade, Acalan High School, Lafayette; Elodie Van Ogtrop, Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

Also William Poarch, College Park High School, Concord; Laura Ann Humphrey, Clayton Valley High School; Don Stonebarger, Alhambra Union High School, Martinez; Fred Theis, San Ramon Valley Union High School, Danville; Ronald Ostrom, Pacifica High School, West Pittsburg; William Maggiora, Mt. Diablo High School, Concord; and Chester Muller, Del Valle High School, Walnut Creek.

MacGrath Heads Richards Drive For CC County

George McGrath, Contra Costa Democratic chairman, has been named chairman of the Richard Richards for United States Senator campaign, Senator Richards announced this week.

Making public the appointment at the ceremonies to open the Democratic State Headquarters in Richmond Friday evening, Senator Richards, expresses his pleasure in having McGrath as leader of the Richards campaign in Contra Costa.

McGrath, long-time active Democrat, has been on the county central committee for eight years, and is now its chairman. He has managed several congressional campaigns, and was chairman of the United Democratic Fund in 1960.

An active union leader, George McGrath now serves as secretary of ILWU Local No. 6, Contra Costa Division, and is employed by California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corporation.

MacArthur Freeway No Help to Area Commuters

Opening of the first section of the MacArthur Freeway in Oakland recently may have alleviated traffic problems in the East Bay city but its effect upon Contra Costa County motorists was almost negligible.

"FULL RELIEF will be provided with the construction of the Grove-Shafter Freeway which will extend on a north-south line from the Nimitz Freeway to the Caldecott Tunnel," Sinclair pointed out, adding that this project would have a full interchange with the MacArthur Freeway.

The entire future of local commuters continues to hinge on construction of the new tunnel, Sinclair indicated. He said bids would soon be called for to provide a new freeway from the tunnel to Orinda.

The new freeway which opened Tuesday is the first in the area to be built initially at its full eight-lane width.

War Orphans Should Apply For U.S. Help

War orphans about to graduate from high school before their 18th birthday should make immediate application for federal war orphans' educational assistance in order to gain multiple benefits.

Contra Costa County Veterans Service Officer William Smaker said a recent ruling by the Veterans Administration makes it possible for every child eligible for war orphan's educational assistance before his 18th birthday to accept both the educational assistance and his compensation payments without forfeiting the right to make a choice of which payment would be right for him after his 18th birthday.

Those war orphans who are also eligible for the California state program will generally find it better to begin their federal assistance as soon as it becomes available, according to Smaker, and continue it without interruption. Once the end of the program is reached, the war orphan can again pick up the state program.

The local veterans service officer adds that with proper planning the war orphan can gain maximum help for an educational program that will carry through graduate work at college or university, should that be the desire of the applicant.

Weather Good For Gardeners

With hot weather just around the corner, this week is a good time for gardeners to do the following:
Aster frikartii, the blue daisy, makes an excellent companion to yellow marigolds, and may be planted now.
Spring-flowering deciduous shrubs that have finished their bloom should be pruned to promote new growth for next year's bloom.
Cushion chrysanthemums may be planted now for summer-long bloom.
Plant tuberous begonia seedlings this month. The top-heavy young plants need staking for support.
Let spring-blooming bulbs continue to ripen. Cutting the tops when they're still green reduces bloom next year.

Fun Day Trip to Zoo for Camp Fire, Blue Birds

Fleischacker Zoo and a cruise on San Francisco Bay were Camp Fire "Fun Day" activities held the past two Saturdays, for members of Central Contra Costa Council of Camp Fire Girls, a United Crusade Agency.
The annual "Fun Day" is given by the council to girl members actively taking part in special sales of Camp Fire Mints during February. Because of the large number of girls eligible to participate this year the "Fun Day" planning committee headed by Mrs. Leslie Lopez, program chairman of the board of directors, planned the event for two separate days.
ABOUT 350 Blue Birds and 60 adult counselors boarded buses from Concord, Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda on May 12 for an all day excursion to the zoo.
Mrs. Donald Bishop of Concord was general chairman for the Blue Bird activities which included watching the animals, Story Book Land, lunch and concession rides. Mrs. Robert Watson and Mrs. Walter Lee helped Mrs. Bishop prepare for the Blue Bird trip.
A two hour cruise on San Francisco Bay started the "Fun Day" Saturday for the older members of Camp Fire Girls in Central Contra Costa Council of Camp Fire Girls.

After the cruise the girls ate their lunch in Lake Merritt Park in the vicinity of the duck pond.
ONE HUNDRED and fifty-eight Camp Fire Girls and counselors ended the day by looking at nature exhibits in the science center and attending a special nature talk by naturalist Covel.
Mrs. William Burke of Concord, chairman of last Saturday's "Fun Day," was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Boghosian of Lafayette, and Mrs. William Rossman, and Mrs. Edward Bowes of Pleasant Hill.
Robert Joy, president of the board of directors, and board members, Fred Pears, Joe Ardent, Robert Tucker and Mrs. Leslie Lopez attended these events.

Heart Fund Gifts Serve As Memorial

"Memorial Day at the Contra Costa County Heart Association is every day," said Mrs. W. B. Marschner, treasurer of the local association. "Every day memorial gifts are received for heart research in memory of some loved one."
Mrs. Marschner suggested that especially those who have lost a member of the family or a dear friend remember them on Wednesday, Memorial Day, with a gift to the Heart Association.
Acknowledgement is made on the day of receipt, she said. As a further means of expediting acknowledgement, a telephone call to the association office can be made.
MRS. MARSCHNER pointed out that there are four days remaining until Memorial Day when gift memorials can be made in honor of those who have succumbed to heart disease.
She said that marvelous discoveries have been made in recent years in heart research as a result of funds allocated by the Heart Association from gifts made by individuals in the memorial program.
Memorial Day gifts may be mailed to the Contra Costa County Heart Association, 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

"Memorial gifts are one of our most important means of raising funds for vital research which may lead to important discoveries in the treatment of the diseases of the heart, which takes such a large toll of lives each year," she said.
She said that all memorial contributions are acknowledged both to the donor and to the designated relative of the person in whose memory the gift is made.

Four Local Men Governors of Bay Area Body

Four central Contra Costa men were elected to serve as governors of the San Francisco Bay Area Council for the coming year.

The four are Drummond J. McCum, superintendent, Junior College District of Contra Costa; Jack O. Fries, president, San Pablo Oil Recovery Company; Jack Towne, president, Contra Costa County Development Association and E. M. Larmer, president, Walnut Creek Hardware.

Fries is also a new member of the governing body of the council, whose purpose is the civic and economic development of the nine Bay Area counties.
In making the announcement of the election, Stanley McCaffrey, council president, said, "we are highly pleased to have these outstanding community leaders join with leading citizens representing government, education, business and labor from throughout the area in carrying out our program of service to the bay region."

Two Local Men Seek Bank OK

Two Lafayette residents have filed an application with the state bookkeeping department to establish a new Concord bank.

The application by Philip H. Angell, Jr., and Fortney H. Stark, Jr., is to establish a State Bank of Contra Costa.
Angell is an attorney. Stark is president of the Security Capital Corporation of San Francisco and vice-president and director of Beacon Savings and Loan of Antioch.
